GEN. BUTLER'S OPERATIONS.

Rebel Attack on Wilson's Landing.

THE ENEMY SEVERELY REPULSED.

[OFFICIAL.]

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 26.

Major-Gen. Dix:

Dispatches from Gen. GRANT, received this morning, inform the department that the rebel army still hold a strong position between the North and South Anna Rivers, where their forces appear to be concentrated.

It will probably require two or three days to develope his operations, which are not now proper subjects for publication.

The Ninth Corps has been incorporated with the Army of the Potomac.

No dispatches have been received from any other field of operations. EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War

From Fredericksburgh—The Wounded all Gone—The Place Again Empty.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, May 26.

The Bulletin has the following special dispatch:

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 26.

The steamer State of Maine arrived this morning with about 400 of our wounded from Port Royal, where they were transferred to her from the George Weems, which brought them down from Fredericksburgh.

Yesterday there were but 1,300 wounded remaining at Fredericksburgh, and these, it was thought, could be removed last night.

All the stores, etc., at that point were rapidly brought off, and it is probable that to-day that place is completely emptied.

At Port Royal a pontoon bridge was being thrown across yesterday afternoon.

The State of Maine reports that no guerrillas or obstructions were encountered along the Rappahannock, our gunboats being very vigilant in patrolling the river.

Since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the following boats, loaded with wounded, have arrived: Winona, 600; Philadelphia, 260; Jefferson, 460; Young America, 200; and Exchange, 200.

These wounded were all taken aboard at Aquia Creek, having been brought down from Fredericksburgh by railroad.

The steamers Keyport and Lizzie Walker were at Fredericksburgh wharf taking on board those who are unable to be removed by railroad.

How the Movement Is Regarded in Washington.

From the Washington Star, May 25.

Parties from the front say that at noon yesterday GRANT was "thirty-five miles from Richmond, and all was well."

His rapid change of base has considerable bothered shippers of army goods here, who, leading for Belle Plain, find the occupation of that lately busy locality completely gone, and the guard troops lately there gone to Port Royal "or the Lord knows where," to establish the new base of supplies.

There are still a number of sick and wounded at Fredericksburgh, and as soon as they are removed that place will also lose its importance quite as suddenly as Belle Plain has.

The three gunboats which moved up the Rappahannock a few days ago, are still at the Fredericksburgh wharf, and a number of transports were there yesterday loading with sick and wounded. Some of the engines and rolling stock of the railroad has already been removed from Fredericksburgh.

The guerrillas attacked a train on Monday moving from Fredericksburgh to Belle Plain, but the rear-guard, after a sharp skirmish, drove them off and succeeded in capturing seventeen of them. Skirmishes with the guerrillas occur daily at different points about Fredericksburgh ever since our army has commenced its forward movement.

On Monday night, a guerrilla camp, near Hartwood, northwest of Fredericksburgh, was attacked by a detachment of our cavalry, and forty horses, captured heretofore from our wagon and ambulance trains, were recaptured and brought of.

Some of the trophies of GRANT'S new advance upon Richmond have arrived here. The steamer Wawasset, which arrived here last night, brought up about 100 contrabands, consisting of men, women and children. These contrabands are from the vicinity of Bowling Green and Guinea's Station, and brought with them a large quantity of bed-clothing and other housekeeping articles.

GEN. BUTLER'S ARMY.

The Rebel Attack on Wilson's Wharf—Gen. Wild's Reply to the Demand for a Surrender—Trouble on the River—How a Cowardly Steamboat Captain was Served.

IN CAMP, WEDNESDAY MORNING, May 25, 1864.

The scene to which we must turn for excitement in this department has been suddenly changed, and I must this morning look toward the river, instead of Richmondward, for news. During the last twenty-four hours, there has been little to disturb the quietness of the "front;" but from "the rear," where happily we have not until this time expected any trouble, there comes an episode.

The rebels appeared in considerable force yesterday afternoon in front of Gen. WILD'S position at Wilson's Wharf, seventeen miles down the river from City Point, and demanded the surrender of the negro troops garrisoning the post. This modest proposition was made by FITZHUGH LEE, commanding the enemy's forces. Accompanying it were a promise and a threat. The promise held out comfortable quarters at Richmond, and the treatment of prisoners of war in case of compliance with the demand, while the threat darkly hinted at consequences suggestive of another Fort Pillow massacre in case of refusal. Gen. WILD'S reply to Mr. FITZHUGH LEE was brief, but expressive. He is reported to have said that "he didn't see it," and issue was joined at once. I have not, as yet, heard the result of the fighting that probably has taken place, but I know that little fear is entertained at headquarters for the safety of WILD'S command. He has been at Wilson's Wharf nearly three weeks, and during that time has made himself secure by intrenching. It is very certain that LEE will have to fight desperately before he can hope to overcome the garrison. The colored soldiers don't expect quarter, and are not likely to give it. Reinforcements were sent to Gen. WILD last night.

The mailboat Thomas Powell, plying between Fortress Monroe and Bermuda Landing, brought this information up the river. From her passengers I learned that the trip was full of interest, and that not the least sensational part of it was the arrest and placing in irons of the Captain and First Engineer of the steamer for cowardice and refusing to obey orders. When the boat arrived at Wilson's Wharf a communication was sent by Gen. WILD to the senior officer on board—a Lieutenant-Colonel, whose name I did not learn—asking for all the troops who happened to be there. By this means, 150 men were added to the garrison, there being that number on board who were on the way to join various regiments to which they belonged. These men the Lieutenant-Colonel assumed command of. The women and children of the post, to the number of about 50, then came on board the Powell to go to Bermuda Landing, and the boat resumed the trip up the river. She had, however, scarcely gone three lengths distance, when the small propeller Mayflower was met. The pilot of the Mayflower hailed Capt. LYONS, of the Powell, and said that a few minutes before the boat had been fired upon by sharpshooters on the river bank, and that his Captain had been seriously wounded. I forgot to say that the steamer George Washington, which was lying at Wilson's Wharf when the Thomas Powell arrived there, having brought troops down from Fort Powhatan, seven miles above, also reported that she had been fired upon on the passage down, but no person had been struck, although several balls had lodged in the vessel. These facts greatly alarmed the Captain of the Powell, who took the responsibility of heading his boat down the river without consulting any of the military gentlemen remaining on board. After running about two miles below Wilson's Wharf, Capt. LYONS was waited on by Major ACKERLY, of the Eleventh Pennsylvania, who was the senior military officer left on board, and as such had the right to give orders, and requested to again go up stream, at least as far as the gunboat Dawn, and there ascertain what was best to be done. The Captain positively refused compliance, making all manner of excuses about his not coming into the department to fight.

Further forbearance with this weak-minded individual ceased to be a virtue, and Major ACKERLEY ordered him to be placed in irons, which was done. The first engineer, taking his cue from his superior officer, also refused to do duty, and also was furnished with iron bracelets. The second engineer, brother of the first, likewise was obstreperous, declining to work the engines, but was finally brought to his senses by Lieut. MAHON, of the Eleventh Pennsylvania Regiment, who persuaded him thereto by placing a cocked and loaded revolver at his head. Arriving opposite the gunboat Dawn, she was hailed, and the circumstances reported. The commanding officer of that vessel promptly replied, "Put the cowardly rascals in irons and I will send you officers, then you can crowd on steam and run up to Fort Powhatan." Major ACKERLY replied that he had anticipated this advice, and the Powell, true to her reputation for speed obtained on the Hudson, again went up the river, "passing the dangerous point," said my informant, "like a streak of greased lightning." At Fort Powhattan, the gunboat Pequot was made acquainted with the state of affairs down the river, and though disabled in machinery to the extent that she could not get up steam, her commanding officer got another steamer to tow him down where he could aid in defending the threatened post. The Captain and Engineer of the Powell were not the only persons on board whom it was found necessary to arrest. There was a civilian, who used his influence with the second engineer, before that fellow was brought to terms by the revolver, to prevent him doing his duty. Being asked to give some account of himself, he at first grandiloquently said that he was "BOB LINCOLN," son of the President of the United States. He was fitted to a pair of irons, when he changed his cognomen to HANCOCK. Thus much for river news. The "scare" has not survived the night.

On land the only incident yesterday was the killing of one man and the wounding of two others, of a working party, by rebel sharpshooters. Gen. WEITZEL had determined upon making a lunette in front of one of our redoubts; and, knowing that the enemy would object to such an arrangement, ordered that the work should be begun at night. This was done and such progress made that the men were pretty well protected by the embankment yesterday, and to-day the danger will be very sensibly diminished.

The trouble on the river yesterday delayed our mails until a very late hour. While we impatiently waited for their coming, a violent wind and rain storm from the southwest, accompanied by thunder and lightning, beat against all our camps. Young campaigners, who did not understand the trick of securing their tents for such an emergency, suffered severely by the wetting of their clothes and blankets, as their canvas houses were blown over. Old campaigners foresaw the danger and provided therefor by firmly driving down the pegs and tightly tying the openings.

I observe by a recent dispatch of Secretary STANTON to Gen. DIX, the statement that HOKE'S North Carolina Brigadehas moved from BUTLER'S front and joined LONGSTREET. Such is not the fact. Two days ago we held communication by flag of truce with a colonel and two other officers of HOKE'S command, and a deserter from one of the regiments thereof was yesterday giving information to Gen. BUTLER.

The Attack on Wilson's Wharf—Repulse of the Rebels with Heavy Loss—Steamers Fired Into—Arrival of Prisoners.

FORTRESS MONROE, Wednesday, May 25.

The steamer George Washington arrived this forenoon from Bermuda Hundred.

The reports that at two o'clock yesterday afternoon the rebel Gen. FITZHUGH LEE, with about 2,000 cavalry, attacked our garrison at Wilson's Landing, on the James River, and came near overpowering our forces there, though our men fought valiantly, and were aided by one of our gunboats.

At 4 o'clock the George Washington arrived with reinforcements from Fort Powhatan, and landed them immediately. The fight was then renewed with great vigor, and at 7 o'clock in the evening the rebels were repulsed and driven back in great disorder, leaving between two and three hundred killed and wounded on the field. Our loss was forty wounded, one killed, and one died on the way down the river. One rebel Major was killed, a rebel Colonel was made prisoner, and ten privates were also captured.

The steamers George Washington, Mayflower and Suwanee were fired into, and the Captain and mate of the Mayflower, and two brothers, named ROBINSON, were wounded.

Gen. DEVENS has almost completely recovered his health, and will leave for his command by the first conveyance.

Twelve rebel prisoners arrived last evening from the White House. Among them are two wounded Lieutenants, who were captured by Gen. SHERIDAN last Saturday on the Pamunky River.

From Fortress Monroe—A Gingerly Account of the Arrest of the Cowardly Officers of the Powell.

FORTRESS MONROE, Wednesday, May 25—5 P. M.

Steamer Thomas Powell, the mail boat from Bermuda Landing, has just arrived, and reports all quiet at the front.

The captain, mate and engineers of the Powell were arrested yesterday afternoon in the upward trip, in consequence of misunderstanding (?) the orders of an excited naval officer who had charge of the gunboat which went up as convoy.

The Powell came down in charge of Capt. RICHARD WALL, with a volunteer mate and engineers.

IMPORTANT FROM SHERMAN.

Report that Atlanta has been Flanked from the West.

LOUISVILLE, Thursday, May 26.

Yesterday's Nashville Union says that Gen. SHERMAN has flanked Atlanta on the west, taking the road to Dallas and Paulding. The Union has no particulars of the movement.

The Escape of Admiral Porter's Fleet from the Red River.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 26.

Admiral PORTER has forwarded to the Navy Department a graphic and highly interesting account of the release of his fleet from the dangerous position above the falls at Alexandria. He says there seems to have been an especial Providence looking out for us in providing a man equal to the emergency. The proposition of Lieut.-Col. BAILEY, of building a series of dams for that purpose, looked like madness, and the best engineers ridiculed it. Leaving out his abilities as an engineer, and the credit he has conferred upon the country in his wonderful work, he has saved the Union a valuable fleet, worth nearly two millions of dollars. The Admiral is much indebted to Gen. BANKS personally for the happy manner in which he forwarded the enterprise, and says he does not believe there ever was a case where such difficulties were overcome in so short space of time, and without any preparation. The vessels will all return to their stations in a few days, as there is no prospect, under present circumstances, of renewing operations in that part of Louisiana, the season having passed for that purpose with any chance of success. The report contains other matters of interest, and will soon be officially promulgated.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI.

The Leased Plantations—Orders by Gen. Slocum.

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT VICKSBURGH,
VICKSBURGH, Miss., May, 12, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 6.—1. The United States Government having adopted the policy of leasing abandoned plantations, and giving employment to freedmen, it is the duty of the military authorities to give protection, as far as possible, to the lessee and laborer. This protection can only be given by holding responsible the districts in which bands of guerrillas, who are constantly committing depredations upon them, are organized and encouraged.

2. It is therefore ordered that hereafter, in every instance where a Government lessee is robbed of property, the commanding officer of the nearest military post shall send a sufficient force to the locality, with instructions to seize from disloyal citizens property sufficient to fully indemnify the lessee, which property shall be sold at public auction, and the proceeds paid to the injured person.

If the crops of a lessee are destroyed, or in any manner injured, crops of the same kind will be seized from disloyal citizens and harvested for the benefit of the injured party.

If any lessee is killed by guerrillas, an assessment of ten thousand dollars will at once be levied upon the disloyal people residing within thirty miles of the place where the offence was committed. Property of any kind will be seized and sold for the purpose, and the amount so assessed will be appropriated for the benefit of the family of the lessee.

Full reports of all seizures and sales of property under this order will, in all cases, be forwarded direct to these headquarters.

3. In deciding upon the class of persons to be assessed, it should not be forgotten that the oath of allegiance is not an infallible test of loyalty. If a citizen has relatives and friends among these outlaws; if he harbors or protects them; or if, having means of doing so, he fails to inform the lessee of their approach, he must be held accountable. Men must be judged by their acts, not by the oaths they have taken. By command of Maj.-Gen. H. W. SLOCUM.

H. C. RODGERS, A. A. G.

The Rebel Ram at Wilmington.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Perceiving in your issue of May 13 an extract taken from the Boston Journal, purporting to give the particulars of the appearance of a rebel iron-clad among the blockading fleet off Wilmington, N. C., I beg leave to correct one or two statements made therein.

On the night of the appearance of the rebel iron-clad, instead of being chased off shore, she, on the contrary, chased off shore one of our blockading fleet, and exchanged two shots with the Nansemond, at point blank range of 300 yards. The next morning the fleet was dispersed in such a manner that there was no one to cope with her excepting the little Nansemond and Houquah, who gallantly stood up to the work, the result of which was, that the Houquah received one shot through her smoke-stack; and, as we have since learned, from an extract taken from a Southern paper, the iron-clad was disabled in such a manner as to necessitate her being run ashore to prevent her from sinking. At all events, she has not made her appearance in these waters since.

The writer sneeringly remarks that "no attempt was made to prevent the iron-clad from getting back," and that "the Niphon was to the northward." It was to be regretted that the Niphon was ten miles to the northward—"rather too far to board her in the smoke."

GEN. BANKS' DEPARTMENT.

Present Condition of Affairs—The Army in Perfect Safety at Alexandria—The Real Source of Blame—Texan Affairs—Slavery forever Abolished in Louisiana.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW-ORLEANS, Thursday, May 12, 1864.

CONDITION OF AFFAIRS.

As the disastrous rumors which our enemies here are so fond of circulating will doubtless reach the North, and, as usual, lose nothing in the transit. I think it best to let you know, at the very commencement of my letter, how we really stand here; and this not from any ordinary hearsay, but from those who received dispatches from Gen. BANKS himself last evening, dated as late as the 10th, from Alexandria.

In brief, therefore, I can assure your readers—whatever they may have heard to the contrary—that Gen. BANKS and his army, so far from being surrounded, and at the mercy of the rebels, as some here assert, or falling back in disorder upon Semmesport, as many were openly asserting on the streets here yesterday, are still snugly located at Alexandria, where I saw them a week before, perfectly confident, full of spirit, abundantly supplied for some time to come, coveting nothing more than an attack from the enemy in such a position as we hold. The gunboats beyond the falls, about which there has been so much reasonable anxiety, will soon be entirely out of danger, and coöperating with our army on the Red River. Three of them, I am assured, have already got safely over the bar, and are already at or quite near Alexandria. The others will soon join their mates, and, in connection with small detachments of our land forces, sweep from both banks of the river any forces that the rebels may dare to send from their main body to molest our free passage up and down.

That they have succeeded in planting temporary batteries on the Red River, which have caused us much annoyance, is unfortunately too strongly corroborated. In my last letter I told you of the rumors that prevailed while I was at Alexandria, and how our escorts shelled the banks at Snaggy Point and Fort de Russy in anticipation. The very next day they had so far succeeded as to disable the transport Warner and the gunboat No. 25, one of our escorts of the previous day. But nobody looks upon these as anything but temporary obstructions, whose existence were only rendered possible by events over which we had no control, viz.: the unprecedented low stage of the river at this season, and the consequent diminution in numbers of those gunboats which could have so patrolled the river as to render the planting of any batteries on its banks utterly impossible. They will, however, in a day or two, have to decamp faster than they came there, if the banks have not been already entirely cleared even while I write.

TEXAN AFFAIRS.

Gen. A. J. HAMILTON has just arrived here in company with Gen. HERRON, and gives a lamentable account of the condition of things in Texas. The removal of a large body of our troops at this juncture will, it is feared, put the Unionists down there in a painful position. He describes their condition already as something pitiful beyond imagination. Whole families, but two or three years ago in the enjoyment of all the comforts of life, reduced to absolute beggary; the able-bodied men run off by rebel conscription, and the poor widows, helpless mothers and children left with none to aid or protect them. The General has done all that he can; he and his friends individually spending all they possess, and "nothing is now left me," said he to me, with his eyes moistened by tears," but to go and beg for them, however painful and degrading the task." I ventured to tell him that, in the eyes of every good and loyal man in the North, no man ever yet set out upon a holier mission than would be his in such a cause and for such sufferers.

EMANCIPATION IN LOUISIANA.

Yesterday will be forever memorable in the history of Louisiana. Slavery was then forever abolished in this State. The convention which has, for weeks past been going on quietly, almost unnoticed in the face of the gigantic movements pending in the East, came at last to a crisis in their resolutions, and the last few days have really been of absorbing interest. You will see by the full details in our local papers, that the Copperhead element made a last desperate struggle in this new palladium of liberty, and tried to get up all sorts of subterfuges, winking at the retention of the old state of things. But it was all useless; they might as well have attempted to prevent the earth from turning on its axis. The convention passed, by a vote of 70 to 16, the following provisions, which are now the fundamental law of the State:

SECTION 1. Slavery and involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall be duly convicted, are hereby forever abolished and prohibited throughout the State.

SEC. 2. The Legislature shall make no law recognizing the right of property in man.

Some effort was made by the Copperheads to disenfranchise the colored man for ever; but this was also stoutly resisted, and finally overpowered. The convention came to the wise conclusion that if matters had not yet arrived at such a crisis as would enable them to act with justice, they would at least have no clogs or impediments in the future wheels of progress. Content with having struck off the fetters of millions of bondmen, they leave their true and just status to be henceforth decided by time, justice and the march of events. A national salute was fired at noon, on the levee, to commemorate this important event, and few, perhaps, who listened to those salvos fully realized how the sound of them would reverberate to the remotest corners of the civilized world. It is an astounding thing to be writing you from New-Orleans: NO SLAVE WILL EVER AGAIN TREAD THE SOIL OF LOUISIANA!

NEMO.

The Louisiana State Convention.

ADOPTION OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL CLAUSE ABOLISHING SLAVERY.

The New-Orleans True Delta, of April 12, reports as follows the proceedings in the State Convention, preliminary to the adoption of the clause in the Constitution abolishing Slavery:

On motion of Mr. HENDERSON, the rules were then suspended, to pass the report of the Committee on Emancipation, to its third reading.

The previous question was then called and all debate cut off.

The Secretary commenced calling the yeas and nays on the adoption of the two first sections of the Emancipation Act, which provide that "Slavery and involuntary servitude, except for crime after due conviction, be and are hereby forever abolished in Louisiana; and second, that the Legislature is forever prohibited from passing any law recognizing property in man."

Mr. ABELL wished to explain his vote, but as he was branching off into a speech he was called to order by the President, who said his remarks were insulting to the house, and he then voted "no!" in a very loud and energetic voice.

Mr. CAMPBELL voted no! no! no! in a thundering tone of voice, adding: "In the name of the wronged people of Louisiana, I vote no!"

Mr. EDWARDS said: "In the name of the people of Louisiana and freedom, I say yes!"

Mr. THOMAS—I have long been in favor of immediate emancipation. When this Convention was called I went before my constituents and told them my sentiments. They elected me by a large majority, and that I may neither violate my own conscience or the pledge I made to my constituents, unlike some others in this body, I vote yes!

Mr. WELLS—For the good of the white as well as the black races, and for the honor of the flag, I vote yes!

Mr. MONTAMAT explained that he had opposed it on the grounds of compensation not being granted, but would vote yes.

On motion, the rules were suspended to allow the President to vote.

PRESIDENT—I vote yes with all my soul.

The following was the result then announced by the Secretary:

YEAS—Messrs. Arial, Austin, Bailey, Barrett, Beauvais, Bell, Bennie, Bonzano, Bromley, Burke, Campbell, J. K. Cook, T. Cook, Collin, Crozat, Cutler, Davies, Duane, Dupaty, Durell, Edwards, Fish, Flagg, Flood, Foley, Fosdick, Fuller, Geier, Goldman, Gorlinski, Healy, Harnan, Hart, Henderson, Hills, Hire, Howes, Kugler, Mass, Mann, Millspaugh, Montamat, Morris, E. Murphy, M. W. Murphy, Newell, Normand, O'Conner, Orr, John Payne, J. T. Paine, Pintado, Poynot, John Purcell, Samuel Pursell, Schroeder, Schnurr, Shaw, Smith, Spellicy, Stocker, Stumpf, Stiner, Stauffer, Taliaferro, Terry, Thorpe, Thomas, Wenck, Wells, Wilson—72.

NAYS—Messrs. Abell, Bofill, Buckley, Campbell, Decker, Dufresne, Duke, Gastinel, Gruneberg, Heard, Maurer, Mendiverri, Mayer, Sullivan, Waters—16.

In announcing the vote, the President said, "the first and second section of the report having passed their third reading and been adopted, are now a part and parcel of the law of the land."

The announcement was received with great applause and loud cheers.

The House then, on motion, adjourned, and three cheers were given for the Free State of Louisiana.

The Delta, of April 13, reports the proceedings of April 12:

"The Convention was called to order by Judge DURELL at 12 precisely. The roll was called, but as a sufficient number did not answer, the Sergeant-at-Arms was directed to procure the attendance of absent members. After a short recess a quorum was obtained, and the Secretary read the journal of the previous day.

Mr. BOFILL asked permission to change his vote on the emancipation question. Permission being granted, he voted "yes." Mr. SULLIVAN also asked to change his vote, and he voted "yes." Mr. CAMPBELL said if the vote had been taken separately on the two sections he would have voted "yes" on the second section.

When the name of Mr. CAZABAT, of Rapides, was called to vote upon the Emancipation Act, he rose and said:

Mr. President, we have witnessed in this very hall, and upon this very floor, the dying struggles and the agonizing convulsions of Slavery; but, thank God! the sacred cause of eternal truth and justice and human freedom has prevailed. Louisiana stands now forever free and redeemed by the voice of her people—by the voice of her noble and worthy sons, such as young WELLS, of Rapides; TALIAFERRO, of Catahoula, and EDWARDS, of Avoyelles. Immortal tria! Heaven bless them! Mr. President, my views in regard to the provisos and amendments offered by the opposition have been duly and fully expressed by my friend, Mr. FOSDICK, of New-Orleans. I stand, Mr. President, and members of this convention, upon the platform of immediate and unconditional abolition of Slavery. And now, in performance of my duty to my God, to my country and to my fellow-man, I cast and record my vote—"yes!"

Mr. ENNIS voted "yes."

From the St. Louis Republican, May 21.

We have dates from Little Rock to the 15th. It has already been announced that the election of Senators had taken place; that Dr. BAXTER, a Union man, and unexceptionable in every respect, had been elected to the full term, beating a Mr. FISHBACK, Ultra-Jacobin for the time being, and under pledges not to run for the short term. But he did run, and received a given number of votes, in an informal meeting of the Legislature. What followed is told in the following extract from the Little Rock Democrat of the 13th:

"We had, yesterday, telegraphic information from Pine Bluff, of an immense mass meeting held in that city last Wednesday night. Two thousand persons are said to have been present, and resolutions passed unanimously indorsing Speaker ALLIS, of the House of Representatives, in his course, refusing to sign the certificate of election in the case of FISHBACK. We have the promise of the resolutions in full, as soon as they can arrive from Pine Bluff. Mr. ALLIS refused to sign Mr. FISHBACK'S certificate, because he, as Speaker, was not in the chair at the time of FISHBACK'S election, and there was no pro tem. Speaker chosen; hence he claims that the body of men electing Mr. FISHBACK was not an organized legislative body, but an irregular assemblage, such as could have met anywhere, under any circumstances, and cast forty-two votes for a Senator. Mr. ALLIS next refused to sign the certificate, because Mr. FISHBACK had signed the Ordinance of Secession, and had never been pardoned by the President for the treason of which he was then guilty, and could not take the Senate oath without being liable to an action for perjury; and to send such a man to the United States Senate, was claimed by the Speaker to be disrespectful to that honorable body.

Our readers will have to-morrow Mr. ALLIS' letter of resignation, which was not allowed to be read by the House of Representatives, together with such other facts as justice to Mr. ALLIS demands."

Letters from Little Rock allude to the resignation of Speaker ALLIS, and the grounds for it. FISHBACK, who has the reputation of being the correspondent of the Democrat from Arkansas, was a member of the convention that took Arkansas out of the Union, signed the ordinance of secession, and raised two companies of rebel troops, and went into the rebel army, taking, of course, the oath of allegiance to the Southern Confederacy. He remained there long enough to satisfy his superior officers that he was incapable of filling any high military command—for which he was exceedingly solicitous—and on the change of affairs and military occupation in that State, he took the first opportunity of proclaiming himself an out-and-out, full-blooded, blatant Radical Union man, and denounced everybody who could not keep up with him in the race as a rebel and a traitor. It is one of the worst signs of the time that it is of such stuff Senators are made now-a-days.

Democratic State Convention of Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Thursday, May 26.

The Democratic Union State Convention, at its last night's session, passed a series of resolutions confirming the principles affirmed by the Union Democratic State Convention at Louisville, March 17, 1863, expressing their abhorrence of all attempts to pervert the war from its legitimate purpose as declared by Congress at the beginning, and to use the power of the nation, under fanatic bidding, to inflict fanatic vengeance: that the reëstablishment and enforcement of the Constitution would be the greatest triumph and vindication of man's capacity for self-government; that the doctrine that the States in which an armed insurrection has existed against the United States Government have ceased to be States, and shall be held, in the ultimate defeat of that insurrection, as Territories or subjugated provinces, ought to be rebuked and condemned; and that the only object of the war ought to be to subjugate the armed insurrection which, for the time being, suspends the proper relations of certain States with the Federal Government, and to reëstablish the supremacy of the Constitution; unqualifiedly condemning the policy of enlisting negroes; declaring that the people cannot submit to the suppression of the freedom of discussion and the freedom of elections and remain free; expressing preference for MCCLELLAN for President and BRAMLETTE for Vice-President, and instructing their delegates to Chicago to vote as a unit in that convention as the majority of them should decide.

After able speeches from Lieut.-Gov. JACOB M. HANSOM, Gen. HUSSTON and Mr. WARD, the convention, at a late hour, adjourned sine die.

Radical State Convention of Missouri.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Thursday, May 26.

The Radical State Convention made the following additional nominations by acclamation:

Auditor—Alonzo Thompson, of Nodoway.

Secretary of the Treasury—William S. Bishop, of Clarke.

Register of Lands—J. E. Smith, of Green.

Attorney-General—R. M. Wingate, of St. Louis.

The Convention decided to send delegates to the Baltimore Convention by a test vote of 241 to 99.

The delegates at large are C. D. Drake, Ben. Loan, John F. Benjamin and C. P. Johnson.

Illinois Union State Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, Wednesday, May 25.

The Republican State Convention met in this city to-day, and made the following nominations: Gen. RICHARD OGLESBY for Governor; Wm. Bross, of Chicago, for Lieutenant-Governor; S. Tyndale, of St. Clair, Secretary of State; J. N. Hayne, of Alexander, Auditor; James C. Beveridge, of Kane, Treasurer; Newton Bateman, Superintendent of Public Instruction; S. W. Moulton, Congressman at large. Resolutions were adopted approving the acts of the Administration in resisting, by all force known to civilized warfare, the effort to destroy our National Union; cordially indorsing the President's Emancipation Proclamation as a legitimate measure; regarding the use of negroes as soldiers as warranted by the usages of civilized war; expressing the opinion that the acts of the Government have been in the main highly conducive to the suppression of the present rebellion, and cordially declaring that if ABRAHAM LINCOLN receive the nomination at Baltimore, the convention will give him a most hearty support.

THE CLEVELAND CONVENTION.

Letter from Mr. Fred. Douglass.

From the New-York Tribune of yesterday.

SIR: I mean the complete abolition of every vestige, form and modification of Slavery in every part of the United States, perfect equality for the black man in every State before the law, in the jury-box, at the ballot-box and on the battle-field; ample and salutary retaliation for every instance of enslavement or slaughter of prisoners of any color. I mean that in the distribution of offices and honors under this Government no discrimination shall be made in favor of or against any class of citizens, whether black or white, of native or foreign birth. And supposing that the convention which is to meet at Cleveland means the same thing, I cheerfully give my name as one of the signers of the call.

Yours, respectfully,

FREDERICK DOUGLASS.

ROCHESTER, May 23, 1864.

From Mexico.

The intercepted correspondence between the French Consuls at Tampico and Matamoras, contains some interesting information on Mexican affairs.

It appears that the French in Mexico are dissatisfied with the lukewarmness of the Mexicans who are in favor of the intervention and the new Imperial Government.

Gen. URAGA has refused an armistice offered by BAZAINE, and has issued a proclamation, declaring his intention to fight to the last.

VIDAURRI and his adherents had left Mexico, but say they expect to return with the assistance of JEFF. DAVIS and the Confederacy.

The Regency, while awaiting the new Emperor, has been subject to dissensions. It had expelled thirteen members of the Council of State, charged with being of the Church party as opposed to the State.

CAIRO, Ill., Thursday, May 26.

Admiral PORTER passed up to Mound City on the steamer Black Hawk, last night.

The Platte Valley, from Memphis, passed up for St. Louis, with 337 bales of cotton.

Memphis advices up to the 24th inst. contain little news.

Two brothers named FERGUSON were executed at Helena for the murder of citizens who were going to Helena with cotton, about three months ago.

Gen. TUTTLE came up on the Platte Valley, en route to report to SHERMAN, having, at his own request, been relieved from the command of the post of Natchez.

The Memphis Cotton market was active and firm. Offerings small, and all taken at advanced rates. Receipts for the past forty-eight hours, 648 bales. Quotations—Middling to strict middling, 74c.@78c.; good, 79c.@80c.; fair, 80c.@84c.

The American Tract Society Anniversary.

BOSTON, Thursday, May 26.

The semi-centennial anniversary of the American Tract Society was held in Tremont Temple last evening, and gathered an immense audience. The annual report shows the cash receipts for the last year to be $124,500, being $17,500 in excess of the previous year. The entire amount expended for the army since the commencement of the war is $76,302. HENRY WARD BEECHER, the Rev. Mr. SAVAGE, of Chicago, and other clergymen addressed the meeting. Notwithstanding the weather, which is decidedly anniversary weather, all the meetings have been well attended, and the interest appears to be greater than in any previous years.

Arrival of the Asia at Boston.

Messrs. William Cullen Bryant, Cyrus W. Field, Rev. Dr. McClintock, and others:

DEAR SIRS: Yours of the 22d inst. is before me. In reply, permit me to say that, though my humble labors in England would bear no comparison to the honor which they have called forth in this requisition so numerously and influentially signed, yet, at a time like this, my sense of duty forbids me to shun any task, however difficult or painful, that would contribute to a better understanding between America and foreign nations, or a deeper appreciation of the value of our own institutions, or a larger spirit of self-sacrifice in maintaining them in their integrity. I therefore cheerfully accept your kind invitation to address you on the subject named, at the time and place specified. I am, gentlemen, yours truly,

FROM ARKANSAS.

Kirby Smith's Opinion of Gen. Steele's Strategy—The Losses of the Expedition Toward Shreveport—A Fight at Lewisburgh.

LITTLE ROCK, Wednesday, May 18.

KIRBY SMITH'S OPINION OF GEN. STEELE.

Gen. KIRBY SMITH admits that he was completely out-generaled by STEELE in the late operations. Relying upon the impassable character of the roads, and the swollen streams and swampy bottoms—the numerous naturally formidable positions which STEELE's army must pass that he could seize—the superiority of his cavalry, in numbers, and the condition of the animals, and especially the overwhelming force he could bring against our army, he expected to easily bag the Union force, if Gen. STEELE undertook to return to Little Rock. He did not believe STEELE would attempt, in the face of such formidable obstacles, to return, but remain in Camden, behind its strong fortifications, while the rebel hosts leisurely beleagured it. He awoke one cloudy morning to find Camden evacuated, and the Federal army across the Washita, with fully one night's march the start of him.

FAGAN and SHELBY were then between STEELE's army and Little Rock, with some 8,000 well-mounted cavalry, and several batteries of artillery; while behind came KIRBY SMITH with nine brigades of infantry (over twenty thousand men,) many of the men of which had been at the whipping of BANKS at Pleasant Hill, and all of whom, cheered by that victory, were eager to meet STEELE's little army. They did have the opportunity at Jenkin's Ford, where they got a splendid thrashing.

Of course KIRBY SMITH would admit, under such circumstances, that he was outgeneralled. He was bound to do this or reflect upon the courage of the men who had been in the fight against BANKS. But he must have been greatly chagrined when he learned that before the fight began at Jenkin's Ford, STEELE not only sent off nearly 4,000 cavalry to the relief of Little Rock, but dispatched word to Pine Bluff that if reinforcements were needed they would be sent there too.

LOSSES IN THE SHREVEPORT EXPEDITION.

The rebels captured exactly 298 wagons—all taken in the two trains that fell into their hands. This number comprises all that were captured by them at any time. They did not capture from Gen STEELE, during the return trip, a single wagon.

Gen. STEELE lost in the expedition in killed, wounded, missing and prisoners, between 1,800 and 1,900 men. Of these 1,700 belonged to the division of Gen. SALOMAN, whereas the rebel loss in one battle only (Jenkin's Ford) was at least 2,000 men. 1,500 of the wounded in this battle are now at Princeton, and KIRBY SMITH admits a loss of 500 killed on the field.

FIGHT AT LEWISBURGH.

Col. RYAN, of the Third Arkansas Cavalry, had a fight on Sunday last with some 300 of SHELBY's men, who were endeavoring to cross the Arkansas, near Lewisburgh. Col. RYAN had about 300 men also. He handsomely thrashed the rebels, killing eight (one a Lieutenant,) and mortally wounding nine. The number of slightly wounded is not known. The rebels, of course, abandoned their attempt to cross at that point.

Col. RYAN subsequently evacuated Lewisburgh, sending the little Government property there to this place, and, with all his disposable cavalry, is hanging upon SHELBY's rear, skirmishing and watching his movements.

SHELBY CROSSING THE ARKANSAS.

JOE SHELBY attacked Dardanelle yesterday and captured it. He then crossed his force, between three and four thousand men and two rifled pieces.

In the action he lost fifty men, and two officers are supposed to have been drowned.

CHANGE OF COMMANDERS.

Gen. SALOMON commands the First Infantry Division, Gen. WEST the Second, and Gen. THAYER the Third. The cavalry brigades have been assigned to the infantry divisions, and Gen. CARR, who commanded the cavalry division during the late expedition, appointed to the command of the sub-district of Little Rock.

Col. WM. E. MCLANE, who has been nearly three years in command of a brigade, and ought to be entitled to wear a Brigadier's star, commands the post of Little Rock.

SUPPOSED PLANS OF THE ENEMY.

We hear every day of contemplated attacks on the railroad—frequently that the attacks have taken place. But the trains run regularly. The line of the road is strongly guarded, and it is believed the rebels cannot assemble a force on the north side of the river sufficiently strong to endanger the road without the knowledge of our military authorities.

It is pretty certain that they have contemplated a raid on this side the road in force, with a view to the interruption of Gen. STEELE's communications with the North, hoping to isolate him by destroying the road, capturing Duvall's Bluff, and blockading the navigation of the Arkansas and White Rivers; but, thus far, they have discovered that their extraordinary secrecy and celerity of movements have not sufficed to baffle the vigilance of our authorities.

In small bands they can creep through the country, or dash along unfrequented roads and our comparatively uninhabited prairies, with little danger of detection. But moving in any force, they are not able to take our watchful officers by surprise.

They are supposed to be in full force just the other side of the Salina. At least, it is understood they wish it believed they are in force there, contemplating important movements, and they refuse to permit our flags of truce to cross over that stream.

Gen. Steele.

Gen. STEELE was recently tendered a public dinner by the citizens of Little Rock. He replied:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF ARKANSAS, &c., }
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 16, 1864. }

GENTLEMEN: I accept with pleasure your kind invitation to a supper, and will meet you at any time and place which may be agreeable to yourselves. Accept, gentlemen, my sincere thanks for the assurance of your high appreciation of my character, and unqualified approval of my official course. During my administration of affairs in this Military Department, I have endeavored constantly to consult the best interests of the people of Arkansas, and at the same time carry out the instructions of my Government. You say truly that I have been a firm friend and supporter of the administration of President LINCOLN. I hold it to be the duty of a soldier to accept the policy of his Government, whatever it may be, and to obey all legal orders of his superiors in command. But, whether citizen or soldier, I would have given my cordial support to any President of the United States who was struggling to maintain the integrity of the Union against the assaults of armed traitors and rebels, who, on a mere pretext, have attempted to overthrow the best Government on earth.

With every assurance of my best wishes for the welfare of your State and of yourselves, I am, gentlemen, very truly, your friend,

F. STEELE,
Major-General-Commanding.

Guerrillas Near Fort Scott.

IMPORTANT FROM COL. PHILLIPS' COMMAND.

PAOLA, May 17, 1864.

Maj.-Gen. Curtis, Commanding:

A party of sixty guerrillas were reported yesterday morning, twelve miles southeast of Fort Scott. Col. BLAIR promptly sent in pursuit. They were overtaken thirty-five miles out, three killed and several wounded. When last heard from, our troops were still in pursuit.

THOS. J. McKEAN, Brig.-Gen.

HEADQUARTERS INDIAN BRIGADE, }
CHOCTAW NATION, May 10, 1864. }

Maj.-Gen. Curtis:

The enemy has not moved back this way yet. My commands are still after them. Capt ANDERSON had a skirmishing fight on the 8th, above Maysville. He had two men wounded—one badly. He killed six of the enemy. Refugees are coming in from Northwestern Texas. Nearly all of the Texas Rangers have started in.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

FROM NASHVILLE.

Impossibility of Getting to the Front—The Sick and Wounded.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Thursday, May 19, 1864.

It is perfectly useless for people to come down here from the North hoping to get through to the army. Gen. SHERMAN has given such strict orders, and taken such precautions to have them enforced, that persons not connected with the army cannot get to the front. The sick and wounded are being well cared for by the delegates of the Christian and Sanitary Commission. Drs. THOMPSON, of your City and BUDDINGTON, of Brooklyn, are among the Christian Commission delegates.

The Mallory Report Forgery.

The following is the correspondence briefly referred to by the Attorney-General, Sir ROUNDELL PALMER, in the House of Commons, May 5:

CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA, }
NAVY DEPARTMENT, RICHMOND, March 10, 1864. }

SIR: My attention having been called to the debate in the House of Commons of Tuesday, the 23d ult., and to the paper introduced by you on that occasion, and read to the House as an authentic "report of the Secretary of the Confederate Navy to his Congress," I deem it proper to inform you that the paper in question is a forgery.

As you have thus inadvertently been misled into lending the authority of your name to a paper fabricated by the enemies of my country for purposes too obvious to require explanation, I confidently appeal to your own sense of justice and propriety for the correction of your mistake with the same publicity as was given to the erroneous assertion.

With great respect, I have the honor to be your obedient servant, (Signed,) S. R. MALLORY,
Secretary Navy, C. S. A.

Sir ROUNDELL PALMER, Attorney-General, &c., &c.,
No. 6 Portland-place, W. London, May 4, 1864.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 10th March, which I propose, with the permission of the House, to read on an early day in the House of Commons.

In so doing I shall only repeat on higher authority than before, the acknowledgment of an error, which I regret having been led into by circumstances which seemed to myself, in common with others, to give credit to the document, since ascertained—and now authoritatively stated by yourself—to be a forgery.

Thanking you for the courtesy of your communication, I remain, Sir, with much respect, your very obedient servant,

(Signed.) ROUNDELL PALMER.

Regulations by Gen. Washburne at Memphis.

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT WEST TENNESSEE, }
MEMPHIS, May 20, 1861. }

[Extract.]

SPECIAL ORDERS No. 27.—VII. Whereas, It is represented that there are persons in Memphis evading or attempting to evade General Orders No. 3, by obtaining passes and going under various pretences outside the lines and purchasing cotton, all such are notified that if they are found guilty of violating such order, either in letter or spirit, this cotton will be seized and turned over to the Treasury Department, and they expelled from the district. Some of these worthies, I am told, lie in wait for their prey miles out, intercepting cavalry, people, and, by misrepresenting and acting upon their fears, manage to rob them of cotton for a mere nominal sum. Memphis has no need for any such villains. They will be expelled from the district when discovered.

By order of MAJ.-GEN. C. C. WASHBURNE,

President Lincoln's Administration.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

As you very wisely leave the question of MCCLELLAND's collusion with BUCKNER in regard to the neutrality of Kentucky, to be decided by the evidence contained in Mr. RAYMOND's impartial and authentic work describing President LINCOLN's Administration, thereby recognizing the fundamental principle of all inquiry—full testimony on the one hand, and the right of private judgment on the other, will you permit a constant reader to suggest that there is one point in regard to which the editor of this documentary history is rather premature, and unintentionally conveys an imputation on the integrity of the Government. The following is the passage to which I refer:

"In April, 1863, an agreement was made with responsible and highly respectable parties in New-York for the colonization of Isle à Vache, within the Republic of Hayti, of which a favorable grant had been made to the Government, and which was represented in the published report of the Commissioner of Emigration in the Department of the Interior as being in every way adapted to the culture of cotton and other tropical products, and as eminently favorable for such an experiment. The Government agreed to pay $50 each for the removal of the consenting emigrants thither—payment to be made on official certificates of their arrival. The contractors fulfilled their portion of the agreement with fidelity, and to the utmost extent of their ability; but after an expenditure of about $80,000, it was discovered that the representations of the fertility of the island had been utterly unfounded, and that the enterprise was hopeless. The agent of the company, moreover, through whom the Government had made the original contract, proved to be utterly untrustworthy and incapable, and was removed. The Government at last brought the negroes back to the United States, but incurred no additional expense, as it declined to pay the contractors the stipulated sum for the removal of the emigrants, or to reimburse them for any portion of the moneys expended in the enterprise."

Having taken much interest in colonization experiments, from the original enterprise of the American Colonization Society to this last experiment under the auspices of the present United States Government, I had organized with care the documentary evidence in this case, and informed myself from reliable sources, so that I know the above statement is absolutely true in all particulars, with the exception of the last paragraph. I think, upon a reconsideration of the facts, the editor of the interesting and valuable work in question will discover that the Government has postponed rather than declined payment of a pecuniary obligation, to evade or repudiate which would not only be a flagrant breach of good faith, but an act of ungenerous and uncourteous injustice, of which no gentleman or man of honor could be guilty. I infer from a remark of the Secretary of the Interior in his report on colonization, that the Government recognized their duty: he says that the parties in question have not yet been paid, but does not intimate any intention of avoiding payment. Such an inference is highly prejudicial at the present crisis. This war, and all the sanitary, colonization, and other humane enterprises growing out of it have been mainly sustained by the people; private and not official beneficent coöperation has afforded both the means and the inspiration. To suppose the Government indifferent or neglectful of the just claims of patriotic citizens, earnest, disinterested and liberal in their aid and influence for the national cause, is to suggest a grave and unreasonable lack of gratitude and honorable feeling, which I am sure the editor of the work in question would be the last to ventilate, especially in reference to the President, whose paramount claim to public confidence is his proverbial and acknowledged honesty. Few of our fellow-citizens have given more freely of their substance, time, and sympathy in aid of the national cause than one of the gentlemen engaged in this enterprise, at the instance and for the benefit of the Government. He, being absent from the country, I cannot learn his private convictions in this instance, but I feel assured that thus to alienate the confidence and services of so true and liberal a patriot, and, indirectly, that of thousands hereafter who may be called upon in like manner, is what neither the President nor his Cabinet would do. The matter may seem unimportant except as regards the parties directly interested, but as a precedent at this juncture, and considering the character and position of the gentlemen concerned, it is of vital moment. The President doubtless feels that he is peculiarly responsible for the expenditure of the money appropriated by Congress for colonization experiments; he is right in disbursing it cautiously, but I cannot for a moment believe that he will decline to pay any just demand, and that this is one is apparent to every honest mind.

CANDOR.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Meeting of Friends of Gen. Hobart Ward.

A large number of the friends of Brig.-Gen. J. H. HOBART WARD, including many officers who have served under him during the present war, met yesterday afternoon at the Astor House, for the purpose of taking into consideration the unfavorable reports against the character of this gallant officer, which have been industriously circulated by his enemies. The sentiment of the meeting in regard to his arrest, by order of Gen. BIRNEY, and in regard to certain charges against him as a soldier, was expressed in the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we have seen with astonishment and indignation the serious charge against him of cowardice, which has been published in several newspapers, and that we denounce in the most emphatic manner, every insinuation of that kind as false and slanderous, and its authors as base maligners. Gen. WARD has proved his courage on too many fields to permit even the momentary entertainment of such an idea.

Resolved, That as the friends of Gen. WARD, to whom his reputation is dear as our own, we challenge the fullest and earliest investigation of his conduct in every particular, confident of the perfect vindication of his honor as a gentleman and his character and courage as a soldier.

Resolved, That while we are happy to say no paper in New-York City has given currency to this slander, except for the purpose of denial, we expect and demand of those journals which have pursued a contrary course, the most prompt and unqualified retraction.

Important Arrest Under the New Enlistment Act.

Three men, named JESSE BARBER, PETER MCDERMOTT and WM. F. GODFREY, were arraigned yesterday before Justice LEDWITH, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, on the charge of having been guilty of violating the recent act of the Legislature of this State, which prohibits the enlisting of soldiers in other States who reside in this, if they are taken from the State of New-York for the purpose of enlistment. The complainant in the case is THOMAS MCDOUGAL, of No. 223 West Houston-street, who alleges that his brother, B. FRANKLIN MCDOUGAL, was taken to Tammany Hall recruiting-station by the prisoners; that he was there examined by a surgeon, and then taken on to Boston by them, where he was enlisted in the Sixteenth Unattached Heavy Artillery of the State of Massachusetts—all of which, the complainant alleges, is in violation of the act above referred to. The accused were held to bail in the sum of $500 each. The penalty for violating the act is $1,000 fine, or imprisonment, or both.

Quakers in Convention.

The meeting of Hicksite Friends Wednesday morning at their place of worship, in Rutherford-place, was attended by many outsiders, who were attracted by curiosity to witness the proceedings. A single glance at the Quaker part of the audience, showed that the plain austerity of dress which once characterized all the disciples of GEORGE FOX, was suffering from very worldly innovations. The middle-aged and sedate sisters of the congregation wore the plain dresses and old-fashioned Quaker bonnets; but the younger females, in whom the Quaker rule has not cooled the natural inclination of the feminine heart to beautiful adornments, were dressed in the fashionable style of the day. The younger men of the society, took off their hats on entering the meeting-house, while their elders remained covered.

The principal speaker of the meeting was J. L. HUNT, of Philadelphia. He called the attention of his hearers to the necessity of having the spirit guide men in the interpretation of the Scriptures—remarking that the letter of the Word killeth—and that a want of a proper understanding of Holy Writ was the main cause of all the imperfections and misgovernment of the world. God alone could open the heart of man and break the seal of the Scriptures. If the world adopted the Divine principles they would all be united by the power of love. Love destroyed the power of the devil, and extracted the sting of the serpent. They stood at that time in the midst of a bloody war, with parties throughout the country arrayed against each other, and party spirit increasing everywhere. Men were seizing instruments to slay one another, and there was no love among them. Yet in the midst of all that, he still had hope that they would yet be united, and that the love of God would prevail.

An address was made by LUCRETIA MOTT, in which she deprecated the doctrine of human depravity, and held that theologians were the cause of the darkness of the world.

Ladies' Reception of the School of Design of the Cooper Institute.

The fifth annual reception of the pupils of the Female Art Department of the Cooper Union was held Wednesday evening. The attendance was larger than the year previous. The paintings, engravings and specimens of architectural and mechanical drawing were excellent, and indicated improvement in the culture of the fine arts as pursued in this institution. GRAFULA's Seventh Regiment Band was in attendance, and added its fine music to the other attractions of the occasion. The halls will be open day and evening until the close of the week, no new tickets being required.

NIGHT BOAT FROM NEW-YORK TO NEW-HAVEN.—The first-class steamer Elm City, takes her place on Saturday, for the season, as the 11 o'clock night boat to New-Haven, arriving in time for all early morning trains.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

Arrival and Reception of the Fourteenth Regiment.

The Fourteenth was expected to arrive in Brooklyn Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock, but in consequence of delay at Baltimore in procuring transportation, they did not leave that City before 5½ o'clock the same morning. Having expected to start the night previous, every preparation had been made to receive them, and from an early hour, thousands of persons thronged Fulton-street from the City Hall to the ferry. After waiting until nearly noon, a dispatch was made public to the effect that they would not reach Jersey City, before 8 o'clock P. M. The crowd then gradually dispersed. Toward evening the streets along the line of march as designated by the Common Council Committee, again became thronged. The City Hall Park, Fulton Ferry, and Washington Park, were the points of greatest interest, it having been announced that the regiment would be dismissed at the latter place.

The public buildings, and places of business generally along Fulton-street were handsomely decorated with flags, and streamers in several instances were suspended across the street. Among the mottoes were the following:

"All Hail, Gallant Fourteenth, Our Union Forever."
"Our Flag was there."
"Welcome the Brooklyn Fourteenth"
"From First Bull Run to Spottsylvania," &c.

The regiment left Brooklyn on Saturday evening, the 19th of May, 1861, with 1,100 men, under command of Col. ALFRED M. WOOD, and have fought in every principal battle, from that of the first Bull Run, under Gen. MCDOWELL, to that of Spottsylvania, under Gen. GRANT, including the campaign on the Peninsula, under Gen. MCCLELLAN; the second Bull Run, under Gen. POPE; the battles of South Mountain and Antietam, again under MCCLELLAN, and that of Gettysburgh, under Gen. MEADE.

The number of effectives among the original members has dwindled down from 1,100 to 140 men.

The Union Ferry Company generously tendered the use of one of their boats to bring the veterans from Jersey City to Brooklyn. The Hamilton was selected, and left Montague Ferry at 8 o'clock P. M., with the Committee of Reception, consisting of Aldermen Kalbfleisch, Belknap, Newman, Van Buren, Ennis, Fisher, and Comptroller Faron, together with the Thirteenth Regiment as escort.

Gen. P. S. CROOKE ordered out his entire brigade, consisting of the Thirteenth Regiment, Col. WOODWARD; Twenty-eighth Regiment, Col. BENNETT, and Seventieth Regiment, Col. CROPSY. The veterans of the Fourteenth, commanded by Col. DE BEVOICE, and the new battalion of heavy artillery, under Maj. HORACE A. SPRAGUE, likewise turned out, as did also the entire Fire Department of the Western District, in charge of Chief Engineer CUNNINGHAM.

The arrival of the boat Hamilton opposite Fulton Ferry was announced by the firing of cannon from the City Wharf, which was responded to on board with music, and the explosion of sky-rockets and Roman candles, making quite a pyrotechnic display, and which presented a beautiful appearance from shore.

As the boat touched the slip, the cheers of the vast throng outside the gates was almost deafening, and the pushing and crowding was so great that the Police had not a little difficulty in clearing the way for the procession, which proceeded up Fulton-street in the following order, under command of Maj.-Gen. DURYEA:

Detachment of Police.
Thirteenth Regiment as escort.
Veterans of the Fourteenth Regiment.
The Fourteenth Regiment.
Mayor and Heads of Departments in carriages.
Committee of the Board of Aldermen, in carriages.
Fire Department of the Western District.

Fulton-street presented an animated and exciting scene. There was one continued mass of human beings from the ferry to the City Hall, and the enthusiasm was most intense. Roman candles and rockets were displayed in every direction, and cheer after cheer went up as the veterans made their appearance. It was, in fact, a grand ovation, such as was never witnessed before in this City, and as creditable to the citizens as it was deserved by the recipients of these honors.

The route taken was through Fulton-street to Court, through Court to Atlantic, through Atlantic to Smith, through Smith to Fulton-avenue, along Fulton-avenue to Clinton-avenue, thence into Myrtle-avenue and to Washington Park, from which place, three years ago, the regiment took their departure. Here the procession came to a halt about 10 o'clock A. M., and the regiment being heartily welcomed back to their homes by Mayor WOOD, (who, as Colonel, commanded them in the first battle of Bull Run,) the procession was dismissed.

Among the places illuminated on Fulton-street were Jones' Hotel, the stores of Whitehouse & Pearce, Husted & Carll, Sherman & Co., John White's Hotel, Westcott's Express Office, Hooley's Minstrels, on Court-street, and the Brooklyn Gas Company, on Remsen-street.

The reception was a most magnificent one in every respect.

The Fourteenth was brought home by Col. E. B. FOWLER. The officers and men all presented a fine, healthy appearance, and appeared pleased to be in Brooklyn once more.

LAW REPORTS.

Court Calendar—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT.—Part I.—Short causes Nos. 2083, 2199, 2211, 2098, 1936, 2252, 2259, 2057, 2075, 2066, 2208.

SPECIAL TERM.—Nos. 189, 158, 264.

Deposits for Collection—Duty of Depositors to Leave Instructions for Mailing.

COMMON PLEAS—GENERAL TERM.

Before Judges Daly, Brady and Cardozo.

George M. Chapman et al. vs. The Union Bank.—In this case the plaintiffs deposited a note with the Union Bank for collection, which, on its face contained a notice that it was payable at the Bank of Kent, Kent County, New-York, without giving the defendants any instructions as to the particular location of the Bank of Kent in Kent County, and without any word whatever concerning the location of the bank in that county. The note was transmitted for collection by the defendants through the New-York State Bank, (their correspondent,) but addressed to the "Bank of Kent, Kent County, N. Y.," instead of to the Bank of Kent, at Ludingtonville, Kent County, N. Y., where the bank was located. The letter failed to reach its destination, and the defendants were sued to recover the amount of the note—it being claimed that it was through their carelessness and negligence that the note was lost.

Upon the trial the case was determined in favor of the defendants, and appeal was taken by the plaintiffs to the General Term, where argument was recently heard, and the appeal now decided by affirming the judgment.

The court, per BRADY, J., say that it is very clear that, if the plaintiffs, on depositing the note in question with the Union Bank for collection, had directed them to transmit it to the Bank of Kent, addressed to the Bank of Kent, Kent County, N. Y., and that if the direction had been followed, the defendants would not have been liable if the note failed to reach its destination. The order of the plaintiffs would have been obeyed, and if they erred they must bear the consequences of the blunder.

In this case they did what was equivalent to that. They deposited with the defendants a note for collection which, on its face, contained a notice that it was payable at the Bank of Kent, Kent County, N. Y. It is not pretended that the plaintiffs advised the defendant that Kent was the Post-office address of the Bank of Kent, nor that any instruction except what might be fairly inferred from the address contained in the body of the note, was given by the plaintiffs to the defendants. The court, upon these facts, concluded that the defendants were clearly authorized to adopt the address designated in the body of the note. Had any other been employed and the letters miscarried, the plaintiffs might justly have charged that the defendants were guilty of negligence in not adopting the address furnished by the instrument itself.

United States Circuit Court—May 23.

Before Justice Nelson.

James Welsh, indicted for passing an altered Treasury note, was arraigned and pleaded guilty His case was put over till Saturday to enable his counsel to furnish affidavits in mitigation.

Martin V. B. Young, indicted for opening a letter, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. His case was set down for Friday next to be tried.

THE WILEY CASE.

The United States vs. 1,756 Shares of Stock, &c.—The District-Attorney said to the court that he had a motion to dismiss the appeal in this case, which he desired to bring on. The Judge said he would not hear any motion separate from the hearing on the merits; he would not take up the time to go over it twice.

Mr. Larocque, who appeared in opposition, was not ready to argue the case on the merits, and the matter accordingly went over.

HARBORING A DESERTER.

Edward Aldridge was then put on trial, charged with harboring a deserter, one William H. Joy. Mr. Spencer appeared for the accused, and the District-Attorney and Mr. Andrews for the Government. Joy was called as a witness, and testified that, about the 20th of December, 1863, the defendant, who kept a liquor-store in this City, went with him to Bridgeport, Conn., where he enlisted in the First Connecticut Cavalry. Of his bounty money, Aldridge got $78. After a few days Joy deserted and came back to New-York, and staid here at Aldridge's place about a fortnight, during which time he, by threatening to have him arrested as a deserter, got $50 more of his bounty money. Aldridge then proposed to him to go with him to New-Hampshire, and enlist again, and they went to Portsmouth, but there he refused to enlist again, and Aldridge left him there.

Mrs. Joy testified that Aldridge told her her husband had enlisted at Bridgeport, and had paid him money; that after Joy came back from Bridgeport they were in company; that Aldridge took Joy to New-Hampshire; that she was opposed to his going, and Aldridge knocked her down.

Capt. Dunning, one of the Provost-Marshals of this City, testified to admissions made to him by the defendant after his arrest, which fully corroborated the other witnesses, and the jury found the defendant guilty.

The Court thereupon sentenced him to be imprisoned two years, and to pay a fine of six cents.

Decision in Admiralty—Collision.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—MAY 26.

Before Judge Nelson.

Alexander P. Stuart vs. the Steamship City of Washington.—This case came up on appeal from a decree of the District Court in favor of the libelant. The libel was filed to recover the damages occasioned to the schooner Augusta by a collision with the steamer, which occurred in the Bay of New-York, on the afternoon of December 6, 1862. Both vessels were bound to sea. The course of the vessels was such that when a mile or so apart, it was plain that if they kept on there must be a collision. The schooner, when the vessels were but a few rods apart, put up her helm and dropped her peak halyards.

Judge BETTS, in the District Court, held that the steamer should have avoided the schooner, and that the change of the latter's course, if it was an error, was excusable, because of the peril in which she was placed by the steamer's attempting to run across her bow.

The owners of the steamer appealed from the decree, and the appeal came on to be heard to-day, before Judge NELSON, who, after hearing the case, without hearing the counsel for libelant, affirmed the decree of the court below.

For appellant, Mr. Buckley; for appellee, Mr. Heath.

THURSDAY, May 26—P. M.

The Stock Exchange and Money market were unusually dull, to-day, except for the Government Stocks, which were in demand at the Exchange Board at 107¼@107⅜ for the 5-20 Loan. The new 10-40 Loan was also in demand. The First National Bank sold, yesterday and to-day, $613,000. The Fourth National, under its new administration, is also selling this Loan, being provided with the bonds of every denomination. The up-town National Banks are also taking increased interest in the distribution of the Loan. The private telegrams from the Continent of Europe by the Asia at Halifax come rather better for the 5-20 Loan. A good many of our own people, original subscribers to this Loan, are selling out to reinvest in the 10-40 Loan at the difference of 7 ₩ cent. in price. The income is 1 ₩ cent. ₩ annum less in Gold than on the 5-20s, but the impression obtains currency that after three or five years the Government will be able to pay off the 6 ₩ cents. by borrowing Money, in Gold, at a lower rate of interest. But as this is not the present impression in Europe, the 5-20 Bonds sell on the Continent as a permanent 6 ₩ cent. Stock redeemable after the year 1882, and as such are preferred (besides being better known) to the 10-40 years 5 ₩ cents.

While the Stock Brokers are not heavy buyers of Money, there is a good demand from other quarters at 6 ₩ cent., and the ease in the market is not so apparent as last week. There is a considerable amount going into the 10.40 Loan for the sake of the Gold interest which it carries, and also a disposition to hold on to the 5 ₩ cent. Legal-Tenders, and to buy the 1-year 6 ₩ cent. Certificates of the Government. The daily purchases of the latter are very large at the Board and also on the Street.

The price of Gold was 1½@2 ₩ cent. weaker early in the day; sales at 183½@183 ₩ cent. In the afternoon, on the rumor that LEE will give fight again before reaching his Richmond intrenchments, the bidding returned to 184½@184¾ ₩ cent. There is not much business reported yet in Bills on London for Saturday's packet.

The Railway list at the Stock Board this morning was under much depression, and prices were even lower after the adjournment. At the Second Board there were symptoms of a recovery, and before the Brokers left their room prices were very generally better, though still below the market of last night. The speculation in Almaden Quicksilver and Mariposa Gold fell off from the extreme figures of yesterday.

At 4 o'clock the following prices were made in comparison with the same hour yesterday. The Railway list generally fair. Mariposa Gold recovered all the decline of the forenoon. Quicksilver rather lower:

A correspondent who makes the inquiry is informed that the 6 ₩ cents. of 1881 pay their half-yearly coupons on 1st January and 1st July. The registered Stock should be in the name of the actual holder on the 1st June, in order to draw the July interest. The transfers close at Washington on Tuesday next, 31st May, though the practice at the Register's Office, we believe, is to recognize all letters requesting transfers dated on or before that day. The same explanations apply to the registered 6 ₩ cents. of 1867–68 and registered 5 ₩ cents. of 1871–74. The conversion of the 7.30 ₩ cent. Treasury Notes can be made into either the registered or coupon Stock of 1881, to bear even date from 1st July, to which time the Department will pay the interest on the notes at the rate of 7.30 ₩ cent. in Gold, remitting the holder a Gold check for the amount. Should the conversion be postponed beyond 1st July, the holders of the notes, to secure the 1881 Stock of even date, will have to allow the back interest on the latter in Gold. There is little or nothing to be gained in the way of interest by holding the notes to maturity on 19th August and 1st October, while the delay by crowding a large amount of business on the Department at one or both dates, might prove a serious inconvenience to the party making the conversion.

It is announced to-day that the administration of Mr. OSBORN, of the Illinois Central Company, was reaffirmed at the annual election yesterday, in Chicago, by a large majority. The three old Directors, whose term expires this year, (including Mr. OSBORN himself,) were reëlected, and Mr. HENRY CHAUNCEY was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the expulsion of Mr. LE ROY M. WILEY, an alleged traitor to the Government of the United States, now in the Southern States.

A workingman writes to us that he does not want his $250 in 7-30 ₩ cents paid off at maturity in currency. He would prefer to give the Government $250 more, and make the sum of $500. He desires to know how he can make this investment. We answer, by selling his $250 of 7-30s for $275 or $277 50, and accumulated interest, and buying a $500 10-40 5 ₩ cent. bond at par, interest payable in Gold, or else a $500 6 ₩ cent. bond of 1881 at 115 ₩ cent.

The Central National Bank has purchased the property corner of Broadway and Pearl-street, opposite the New-York Hospital, as a permanent location for their business, now rapidly increasing, and already amounting to $4,000,000 deposits.

We hear that the weakness in Erie Railway Shares early in the day was owing in part to a rumor that a new issue of Stock, under the late Act of the Legislature for second track and new equipment, is about to be made. No official intimation of the sort has yet been made. The improvements on the line (including new equipment) are no doubt going on, but when or how to be paid for we have no information. It was stated some weeks ago that only 10,000 new shares would be required for this service, for the whole year 1864.

We have been requested to call attention to the New-York County Loan of $2,000,000 Soldiers' Substitute Bounty Redemption Bonds. bids for which will be opened at the office on Saturday, May 28, at 2 o'clock P. M. This loan is to provide for the redemption of the same amount of Soldiers' Substitute Bounty Fund Bonds, due 1st of June next.

The day's business at the office of the United States Assistant Treasurer is as follows: Total receipts, $1,359,777 16, including for Customs, $132,000; Payments, $1,172,587 62; Balance, $22,181,837 04; Ten-forties, $36,150.

GOLD PENS WITHOUT CASES.

For 25 cents, the Magic Pen; for 38 cents, the Lucky Pen; for 50 cents, the Always-Ready Pen; for 75 cents, the Elegant Pen; and for $1, the Excelsior Pen. These Pens are not numbered, but correspond in sizes to Numbers 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 respectively.

THE SAME PENS IN SILVER-PLATED EXTENSION CASES, WITH PENCILS.

For 50 cents, the Magic Pen; for 75 cents, the Lucky Pen; for $1, the Always-Ready Pen; for $1 25, the Elegant Pen, and for $1 50, the Excelsior Pen.

These are Well-Finished, Good-Writing Gold Pens, with Iridosmin Points, the average wear of every one of which will far outlast a gross of the best Steel Pens, although they are unwarranted, and, therefore, not exchangeable.

MORTON'S WARRANTED PENS.

The name "A. Morton," "Number" and "Quality," are stamped on the following Pens, and the points are warranted for six months, except against accident.

The numbers indicate size only; No. 1 being the smallest, No. 6 the largest, adapted for the pocket; No. 4 the smallest, and No. 10 the largest Mammoth Gold Pen, for the desk.

Long and medium Nibs of all sizes and qualities. Short Nibs of Numbers 4, 5, 6 and 7, and made only of first quality.

The Long and Short Nibs are fine pointed; the Medium Nibs are broad, coarse business points. The engravings are fac-similes of the sizes and styles.

For $4 a No. 8 Pen; for $5 a No. 9 Pen; and for $6 a No. 10 Pen.

The "1st Quality" are pointed with the very best Iridosmin Points, carefully selected, and none of this quality are sold with the slightest imperfection which skill and the closest scrutiny can detect.

The "2d Quality" are superior to any Pens made by him previous to the year 1860.

The "3d Quality" he intends shall equal in respect to Durability, Elasticity and Good Writing Qualities (the only true considerations) any Gold Pens made elsewhere.

In regard to the Cheap Gold Pens, he begs leave to say that, previous to operating his New and Patented Machines, he could not have made as Good Writing and Durable Pens for the price, had the Gold been furnished gratuitously.

Parties ordering must in all instances specify the "Name" or the "Number" and "Quality" of the Pens wanted, and be particular to describe the kind they prefer—whether stiff or limber, coarse or fine.

All remittances sent by mail in registered letters are at my risk; and to all who send twenty cents (charge of registering,) in addition to the price of goods ordered, will guarantee their safe delivery.

Parties sending Gold or Silver will be allowed the full premium on the day received.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.

A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.
THE DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE) STEEL SPRING.
J. I. & J. O. WEST, NO. 97 CHAMBERS-ST., NEW YORK,

Are the owners of the patent and exclusive manufacturers of this,

J. W. BRADLEY'S
PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRTS.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz.: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place from the difficulty of contracting them to occupying a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress. A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as above, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this City and throughout the different States.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The latest intelligence from Gen. GRANT is embodied in a dispatch from Gen. GRANT, dated Wednesday morning, in which he says the rebels appear to be concentrated in a strong position between the North and South Anna Rivers. The previous intelligence from Gen. GRANT indicated that LEE had crossed the South Anna, as Gen. GRANT said on Tuesday that his army "would probably reach that river by nightfall." But it appears that the rebels were discovered in their new and strong position, which undoubtedly covers Sexton's Junction, with their right resting on Little Swamp, and their left on Little River, a rapid rugged stream. Thus situated they can again make a strong resistance to GRANT'S advance, though there is no reason why the position cannot be readily flanked. The Secretary of War says Gen. GRANT was prosecuting operations for the development of the enemy's intentions. Fredericksburgh and Aquia Creek are by this time abandoned as bases of supplies.

From Gen. BUTLER'S army we have the particulars of an attack on Wilson's Wharf by FITZ LEE'S rebel division of cavalry, and their severe repulse by Brig.-Gen. WILD'S negro troops.

There is no further intelligence from Gen. SHERMAN'S army, save an unconfirmed report that Atlanta has been flanked on the west.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Board of Councilmen met yesterday. Mr. OPDYKE introduced a resolution, which was referred to the Committee on Railroads, to change the grant to the Harlem Railroad Company to run short cars from Thirty-second to Forty-second-street, by providing that they shall pass through the tunnel, instead of going over the surface of the street. Resolutions were adopted increasing the pay of all Inspectors of Pavement, paying in the Croton Department, and the Inspectors of Lamps in the Street Department, from $2 to $2 50 per day. The Street Commissioner replied to a resolution of inquiry that he is at a loss to make suggestions for the improvement of travel in Broadway, between Pine-street and Maiden-lane, but gives the plans heretofore discussed, such as dismissing the omnibuses from and establishing a railway in Broadway, widening Nassau-street, widening Church-street, &c., for information in the matter. He also reported to the board that the Erie Railroad Company have no authority for constructing sheds on the piers between Chambers and Reade streets, North River. Both communications were referred. The Comptroller reported a balance of $1,767,369 06 in the City Treasury on the 21st inst. Adjourned to 2 o'clock P. M. next Monday.

Lieut.-Col. BAYLEY, who saved the gunboat fleet by constructing a dam across the Red River, is a Wisconsin man. He entered the service as Captain of Company D, Fourth Wisconsin Regiment, July 2, 1861, was promoted to Major May 30, 1863, to Lieutenant-Colonel June 15, 1863. For meritorious conduct in the field and for highly distinguished services before Port Hudson, he was mustered in Lieutenant-Colonel of the Fourth Wisconsin after the death of the gallant Col. BEAN, who was killed in action before Port Hudson. Col BOARDMAN, who succeeded Col. BEAN, having recently been killed in a skirmish, Col. BAYLEY will succeed to its command. Col. BAYLEY has been on the staff of Gen. FRANKLIN since March 2, 1864, and is now Acting Engineer of the Nineteenth Army Corps. His engineering qualities were obtained in the lumber regions of Wisconsin, where he learned how to navigate shallow creeks and rivers.

The United States transport Liberty arrived here yesterday from New-Orleans and Pensacola, with passengers, mails and cotton. Among the passengers were the Second United States Artillery, who have been stationed at Fort Pickens and Barrancas for more than three years. The following vessels were at Pensacola when the Liberty left, on the 20th inst: United States steamer Hartford, flagship; frigate Potomac, steamer De Soto, and steamers Pinola, Kennebec, Port Royal and Hudson. The steamer Seminole and ship Nightengale sailed the 18th.

Brig.-Gens. GIBBON and DODGE were Wednesday nominated Major-Generals of Volunteers. Maj.-Gen. OGLESBY has resigned, and Maj.-Gen. BUELL has been mustered out. Gen. OGLESBY has tendered his resignation three times, and it is accepted now for the purpose of making a vacancy for Gen. DODGE. Gen. BUELL was mustered out for refusing to accept a command under Gen. CANBY. BUELL was one of MCCLELLAN'S pet Generals.

In the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, the impaneling of the jury in the case of EDWARD HUNTER, indicted for murder, was continued. Three more jurors were obtained, making in all eleven who have been sworn. Two extra panels of 150 each have been exhausted. The court ordered a further panel of fifty jurors, and adjourned until this morning. The prisoner's counsel have interposed twenty preemptory challenges, the full number allowed by law.

United States Commissioner OSBORNE yesterday finished the examination in the case of WM. H. CLEARY, third mate of the ship Emily Fanshaw, charged with the murder of VICTOR, a seaman on that vessel. R. N. WAITE, Esq., counsel for the prisoner, contended that the evidence only made out a case of manslaughter. The Commissioner thought differently, and committed the accused to answer the charge of murder.

Late on Wednesday night last, Officer MURPHY, of the Fourteenth Police Precinct, while in the discharge of his duty, in Canal street, near Mott, was stabbed with a knife in the hands of a rowdy named THOMAS GODFREY. The weapon entered the officer's left thigh, inflicting a dangerous, and it is feared, mortal wound. He was conveyed to the New-York Hospital. GODFREY was arrested by Officer MCGRADE, and he is now held in the Tombs to await the result.

The Washington Star states that the infantry troops lately upon the outer line of the defences of Washington, on Monday night commenced to contract their lines under orders from headquarters. They brought away all Government property, and left the block houses about Fairfax Court-House and beyond standing, there being no apprehension of any large rebel force taking possession of them. No guerrillas have been seen in that neighborhood for some days. The One Hundred and Forty-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers, Fourth Delaware, and Second District of Columbia Infantry, who were doing guard duty along the roads from Fairfax to Bull Run, were the infantry withdrawn—the One Hundred and Fifty-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers and Fourth Delaware going (it is supposed) to join GRANT'S army, and the Second District Columbia remaining at Springfield, seven miles beyond Alexandria, for guard duty. A brigade of cavalry, under command of Col. LOWELL, of a Massachusetts regiment, are still on duty in that vicinity, and will carefully patrol the country and watch operations there.

A disgraceful fight occurred in Washington, on Wednesday evening, between Senator CHANDLER and Representative D. W. VOORHEES. CHANDLER and VOORHEES, it appears, met at the National Hotel, when CHANDLER called VOORHEES "a Copperhead," upon which VOORHEES struck him. The fight then became more general, and a friend of VOORHEES broke a pitcher over Mr. CHANDLER'S head.

Adjt.-Gent. SPRAGUE has issued an order requesting officers of volunteer regiments from this State, who have left the service by resignation, expiration of term of service, or for other causes, to send to his headquarters their Post-office address, designating their rank and the regiments in which they served.

Col. ABM. ZABRISKIE, of the Ninth New-Jersey Regiment, died on Tuesday evening at Hampton Hospital, near Fortress Monroe, from the effects of the wound he received while gallantly serving his country at the battle of Palmer's Creek, on the 16th inst., in Gen. BUTLER'S army near Richmond.

The solemn festival of Corpus Christi, which, in the Catholic countries of Europe is always celebrated with a great display of civic, military, and ecclesiastical ceremonies, was yesterday quietly observed in all the Catholic churches of this City.

The case of HUNTER, charged with the murder of his wife, was again called for trial yesterday, but after exhausting the panel—Mr. CLINTON exercising the right of challenge freely—only eleven jurors were obtained. The Court adjourned until to-day, when the case will be tried.

In the Surrogate's Court, yesterday, before Surrogate TUCKER, the will of JOHN BUTLER was offered for probate. Deceased was a brother of Maj.-Gen. BENJAMIN F. BUTLER, and by his will leaves Gen. BUTLER one-half of an estate valued at two millions of dollars.

A dispatch from Washington announces that the Court-martial on Surgeon-General HAMMOND has resulted in his conviction. Surgeon-General HAMMOND was arraigned on the following charges: Corruptly, fraudulently and unlawfully purchasing medical hospital stores and supplies, and falsehood.

Gens. BEAUREGARD and FORREST, and Lieut.-Gov. I. G. HARRIS, have paid the direct tax upon their real estate in Tennessee, through agents or attorneys. This will appear from an official letter from the Tax Commissioner of Tennessee.

THADDEUS W. MEIGHAN desires us to say for the information of his friends, that he has recently arrived in this City from the front, sick, and is in the Ladies' Home Hospital, Fifty-first-street.

The furious rain storm yesterday seriously impeded business. Flour was less active and less buoyant. A good inquiry prevailed for Wheat at buoyant prices. Oats were in more request, and dearer, as were also the principal kinds of provisions, especially Pork, of which large sales were made for immediate and future delivery, at decidedly higher prices. Groceries, Hay, Oils, Tallow, Cotton and Tobacco were less freely dealt in. Whisky was more sought after at advanced rates. The Freight market was quiet.

The price of Gold was lower yesterday through the early part of the day, closing about the same as on Wednesday. Government Stocks in demand. The Railways depressed at the First Board, but steadier at the close.

THE PIRATES OF THE J. C. GERITY AND THEIR EXPEDITION.—The matter of the seamen who shipped on board the schooner J. C. Gerity, in the Gulf of Mexico, took possession of her cargo, and carried vessel and cargo into the Balize, where they undertook to dispose of them, claiming to have captured them under Confederate authority, has taken a new shape before the English courts. It will be recollected that the men were arrested and proceedings were instituted, under the Extradition Treaty, to have them sent to this country for trial.

The case is very similar in its main features to that of the pirates who took the steamer Chesapeake, and from present appearances, it bids fair to have a similar result. In that case, after the magistrate before whom the application for their extradition was made, had decided to grant the warrant, a habeas corpus was issued out of one of the courts, which discharged the prisoners because the crime of piracy with which the prisoners were charged was an offence by the law of nations, and as such cognizable by the courts at Halifax as well as by ours.

In the case of the J. C. Gerity, the proceedings have already taken the same course—a habeas corpus has been issued by the Court of Queen's Bench, on which the case has probably by this time been argued, if not disposed of. The writ was not, however, granted ex parte, but on an order to show cause, on the return of which the questions involved were discussed by counsel who were heard in opposition to the application. The members of the court seemed to take the same view of the law that was taken by the Halifax judge in the case of the Chesapeake, though we do not see that any mention of that case was made by any one.

The argument of the counsel who opposed the writ, was that as persons guilty of piracy were especially named in the Extradition Treaty, and as the treaty did not in terms make any exception of cases which were cognizable in the courts of both countries, these men who had been guilty of piracy upon an American vessel should be sent to this country to be tried, while the Judges seemed to take the ground that it could not have been intended to send criminals out of a country whose courts were perfectly competent to try them for the offence. The decision which was arrived at, however, was only that the point was not so clear against the prisoners as to warrant the refusal to grant the writ.

On the return of the writ it will be doubtless more elaborately discussed and more solemnly decided. We only hope that if the Court should hold that the prisoners cannot be sent out of England, because they can be tried before her courts, measures will be taken to bring them to trial there, and not make that a ground for letting them go unpunished and without an effort to punish them, as was the case with the pirates of the Chesapeake.

Lee's Retreat.

There is, as usual with our excitable public on such occasions, the highest exultation over the retreat of Gen. LEE, and the feeling is somewhat shared by the Secretary of War, if we might judge from yesterday's dispatches. A calm observation of the campaign will, we believe, somewhat modify these high hopes, and yet give us ground to believe in a successful result, at a later period.

It must be remembered that the checkmating of Gen. BUTLER on the James has entirely changed the aspect of the campaign, since the first week of May. Then, the Richmond and Petersburgh Road was held by our troops, the Danville Road broken, and Richmond itself exposed to a coup de main from Gen. BUTLER'S army.

LEE, with his usual vigor, evidently came to the conclusion to leave Richmond to its fate and the skill of BEAUREGARD, and make his principal bases at Gordonsville and Lynchburgh, thus preparing himself, if necessary, to retreat on that line. Richmond, it is true, is of immense importance to him, but not for a moment to be weighed with the safety of his army. Now, however, Richmond and its links with the South are safe from the rear; BUTLER himself is besieged, and the city presents as good a centre for LEE'S operations as any that could be found. There he will be for the present, between BUTLER and GRANT, and can strike either, as he finds opportunity. His communications with the South will be open, so that he can at any time retreat, if he is forced to, and he has the advantage of considerable (though not perhaps very formidable) intrenchments. It should also be borne in mind that GRANT can hardly be said to have flanked him, (as previous reports from the army would indicate,) but pursued him; for LEE has evidently been steadily ahead of his pursuers.

Nor do we believe that the retreat to Richmond will have any very depressing effect on the spirits of LEE'S army. They are now a veteran army, hardened in a hundred battles, disciplined, determined and ferocious. Such troops can bear retreat, as well as maintain an advance. It will be represented as a strategic "change of base," and, except on the conscript, have limited influence.

The Summer campaign, accordingly, of 1864, will probably begin with the "second siege of Richmond." And we do not know that any loyal man could wish a different locality or opening for the North. Gen. GRANT will have the immense advantage of working near his base. As he continues to advance he can make a very effective series of "changes of base"—quite different in character from the celebrated Peninsular movement of that name. He can be easily supplied with men, provisions and ammunition. All possible available forces can be concentrated around the devoted city. With the present strong works around Washington, that city can be safely left to its garrison and every man not in use pushed forward to the Army of the Potomac. The General and the Cabinet work harmoniously, and GRANT has won his greatest renown in sieges. With his great body of powerful cavalry, he can probably again cut the lines which supply Richmond. And here will be LEE'S especial weakness—his scant supplies. With Georgia and East Tennessee in our hands, he cannot possibly feed a large army any length of time in Virginia. The capture of Richmond, even after the escape of LEE, would be a tremendous blow to the prestige of the rebels, and a defeat of the rebel army there would ruin the Confederacy.

Secretary STANTON'S dispatch of this morning very quietly subverts a prophecy into which he was inadvertently betrayed in his dispatch given yesterday. He there stated that our army in pursuit of LEE "would reach the South Anna River by nightfall" of Tuesday—and implied that the rebel army, in its retreat toward Richmond, had crossed that stream. To-day, however, we learn from him that later advices from Gen. GRANT "inform the department that the rebel army still hold a strong position between the North and South Anna Rivers, where their forces appear to be concentrated." In reviewing in these columns yesterday the official and other news we then had, we could scarcely help doubting the statement that LEE had crossed the South Anna, and said that "it hardly seemed possible that he could have given up such an important point as Sexton's Junction without a desperate struggle." It certainly seems his policy to hold on to it as long and as stiffly as he can. Had LEE'S army been across the South Anna, we should probably have had no more fighting this side the defences of Richmond.

GRANT'S greatest dangers at present seem to us to lie in the separation of his and BUTLER'S corps—exposing the latter to an overwhelming attack, and in the sickliness of that malarious country around Richmond. But with regard to the former, BUTLER'S army can at any time be transported to the Peninsula and join our main body; and to avoid the latter, the Commander-in-Chief will undoubtedly trust more to the musket than the spade. Taking all things in view, we consider Gen. GRANT'S opening of the campaign all that could be desired, and the prospects for the Summer most brilliant.

THE NEW CONSCRIPTION BILL.—The new conscription bill is reported in the Senate minus the $300 exemption clause. The proposed amendment, however, does not interfere with the right heretofore extended to drafted persons to furnish substitutes. Viewed from the stand-point of military exigency, the new provision is justified on the theory that the commutation fee is altogether disproportionate to the value of a recruit ready found; and chiefly so, in taking into account the great element of time. For, those who do not choose to serve personally in the field become active and interested recruiting agents; and if the draft fails to bring the required number of men instantaneously into the field, it will bring at once to the aid of the War Department an army of recruiting agents bound (for good and sufficient personal reasons) to make the work go through.

Viewed from the stand-point of popular interest and feeling, the chief, indeed, we presume, almost the only, advantage promised by the change proposed, lies in the finality of the relief which accrues to the conscript who finds a substitute—a relief which does not inhere in the commutation fee, as heretofore applied.

The French-Mexican Question—The House Resolution and the Executive.

The Message which the President has sent to the House, (published by us yesterday,) communicating the representations made to the French Government touching the joint resolution passed last month by the House, on the French-Mexican question, demands the calmest attention of all men who have at heart the avoidance of foreign war, and the conquest of the rebellion. The course of the Government has been preëminently wise; yet factionists throughout the land, doubtless, will seek to take advantage of it precisely as they did of the settlement of the Trent difficulty. But in this instance, as in every other, faction is impotent before the sober sense of the people.

In its instructions to Mr. DAYTON, our Government did not at all compromise the doctrine or the purpose of the House resolution. That resolution, in fact, declared no purpose. It manifested the opposition of the people to the erection of a monarchy in Mexico in these terms:

> Resolved, That the Congress of the United States are unwilling by silence to leave the nations of the world under the impression that they are indifferent spectators of the deplorable events now transpiring in the Republic of Mexico; therefore they think it fit to declare that it does not accord with the people of the United States to acknowledge a monarchical government erected on the ruins of any republican government in America, under the auspices of any European power.

It did not designate or even indicate any present practical policy, and was at the time justly characterized by the Anti-Administration leaders as a mere brutum fulmen. Its language was more vehement than that which had been used by the Secretary of State; but he tells Mr. DAYTON, with truth, that "it is hardly necessary, after what I have heretofore written, with perfect candor, for the information of France, to say that this resolution truly interprets the unanimous sentiment of the people of the United States in regard to Mexico." It is not the essence, but the needlessly vehement form of the House declaration, that Mr. SEWARD discards. It carries on its face a war spirit, but carefully keeps clear of all practical committal to war measures or immediate action of any sort. It has something more than a declaration of feeling—something more even than a warning. It amounted to a threat. But Congress has no right to put a threat in the mouth of the Government. Threats are not the language which Governments use to each other, for no Government with a particle of national spirit will ever yield to one. A Government of self-respect will never use warnings even, unless it sees some imminent evil to be shunned. What is the imminent evil in this case unless it be war? If the House meant war, they should have taken its part of the responsibility of a joint resolution distinctly declaring it, in conformity with the Constitution, which gives Congress the war-declaring power. Not having taken that responsibility, they were bound to let the diplomatic policy of the Government rest with the Executive department of the Government, where the Constitution devolves it. They have no right to threaten, or even to warn a foreign nation; but, at the very most, to give utterance in simple, inoffensive terms, to the sentiments of the people they represent—leaving the Government free to manage its diplomacy without embarrassment, and on its own sole responsibility.

Our Executive had discharged its full duty to the French Government in apprising that Government, in clear terms, that the American people are unanimously opposed to the establishment of any rule in Mexico through foreign instrumentality. It is not called upon to declare when or how that opposition will hereafter manifest itself in practical action. That is wisely left to the future. If the French Government chooses, in the face of that plain statement of American sentiment, to go on in its efforts to found a monarchy in Mexico, it does so at its risk. The shape which that issue may finally take, neither that Government nor our Government can now tell. It is to be hoped that it will be determined without a war between ourselves and our old ally, if possible. It does not now seem to us possible to do this, and at the same time preserve the throne now set up. But the Americans of the next few years will be just as competent to decide upon the appropriate policy as we of this year, and will be in a far better position to carry it out effectively.

Our present business is to put down the rebellion which is struggling to destroy the Government. That business ought to have our exclusive attention and our utmost energy. Any war which a foreign nation may force upon us we will accept and fight through, if need be, to the bitter end. But no sane man can doubt that such a war would be a peculiar calamity to us in our present situation, and that all honorable means should be used to avoid it. There is nothing dishonorable in an adjournment of the issue between ourselves and France concerning Mexico. It is nothing more than any man freely does who feels another is doing him an injury, and yet takes his own time to obtain redress in court, or otherwise. Every man of conscious strength secures his rights at his own time. It is always a sure mark of manhood to control impulse, and bide one's time. Nations may do the same thing as honorably. It must be remembered that Secretary SEWARD did not volunteer to the French Government an explanation of the House Resolution. The Anti-Administration journals, with their usual regard for truth, have indeed made that assertion. But the present publication proves that, like many other of their statements, it is contrary to fact. Mr. SEWARD, in his letter to Mr. DAYTON, states that "Mr. GEOFREY (now in charge of the French Embassy in Washington) lost no time in asking an explanation of this proceeding." Mr. SEWARD noticed the subject, because he could not avoid it. If the opponents of the Administration are not satisfied with his manner of noticing it, let them, avoiding all empty generalities, specify distinctly what attitude they would have had him assume. If an attitude of hostility and open war, let them declare it. It will be only one more issue which true Union men will gladly take to the polls next November.

News for the Newsboys.

Mr. JAMES BROOKS proposes to have the Washington newsboys taught the Magna Charta, "not only in English, but in the original Latin," and proposes to have it posted on the Capitol walls in "Latin, Saxon, English and all other languages." In addition to this, he desires to have the newsboys "educated under the Petition of Right, and the principles of the common law affecting human liberty." We have no objection in the world to having the newsboys taught the Magna Charta, and having it posted on the Capitol in "Latin, Saxon, English," and as many other languages as Mr. BROOKS and his confederates may think desirable, provided it is not done at the expense of the public. If it is considered by the Democratic party desirable that a knowledge of the Magna Charta should be more widely diffused, we would suggest that a ready way of attaining the object would be to circulate copies of it this Summer as a campaign document. This would, doubtless, be very damaging to the Administration, particularly the Latin and Saxon versions of it. Nor would we, were we in the place of the Democratic leaders, stop here. There are a variety of other documents which would, if judiciously distributed, cause Mr. LINCOLN'S knees to shake with apprehension. The Saxon Chronicle, the Annals of the Four Masters, the Proclamation of Henry III., the Year Books, the State Trials, the Pragmatic Sanction, and the Edict of Nantes, are not half as well known, either to the newsboys or the rest of the community, as they ought to be; and the Democratic party will render the public an immense service by striking off a million copies or thereabouts of each of them, and selling them cheap or distributing them gratuitously this Summer.

We have reflected long and anxiously upon this proposal to educate the newsboys under the Petition of Right and the principles of the common law affecting human liberty. How "to educate newsboys under the Petition of Right," we confess we do not know, and until we receive more specific information touching the nature of the process, we shall withhold our opinion upon it. But to educating them "under the principles of the common law affecting human liberty, as declared in England centuries ago," we have certain objections, in which Mr. BROOKS will, when better informed, we are satisfied, heartily concur with us. In fact we are satisfied that nothing but entire ignorance of the principles of the common law on this point could have led him to make any such proposal. There is nothing he would not have the newsboys become rather than Abolitionists, and yet it is tolerably certain that if indoctrinated with the principles of the common law affecting human liberty, Abolitionists they would certainly become. The history of the common law is a long record of attempts on the part of the courts to discountenance, restrict, and abolish Slavery, villenage and all forms of human bondage, without distinction of race or color. It is not to the common, but to the statute law that we owe the presence among us of such an institution as Slavery, and of such a breed of politicians as Mr. BROOKS. The great master of the common law—COKE—who expounded its principles centuries ago, declared that "he was to be adjudged wicked and cruel who was hostile to freedom." "Our laws," he says, "always favor freedom." We greatly fear that there are not in the civilized world more deserving objects of this anathema than the clique of Copperheads, though they just now propose to teach us the great doctrines of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence.

THE NATIONAL BANK CURRENCY.—The proportion of the new National Bank Notes to the general currency of the country, thus far issued, is small; but it is known that already a select few of our City Banks are disposed to give their own dealers annoyance by refusing them on current deposit. This feeling is indulged more in antagonism to the Government that has established, as part and parcel of its own financial machinery as well as to secure a uniform Bank currency for the People, the National Banking Law, than from any hope of seriously damaging the system itself.

The question is one that chiefly concerns the commercial public, who continue to do their business with the local Banks, and at the same time have large and constant dealings, directly or indirectly, with the Government, or with customers and correspondents in the country, who make their payments and remittances in Government drafts and Greenbacks or National Bank Notes. Every Treasury Warrant and every disbursement check made on the Sub-Treasury or the National Banks holding Government funds, is payable in this National Bank Currency or in Greenbacks, at the option of the depositary drawn on, except for Gold interest on the Funded Debt, or on the reclamation of Customs Duties. This Currency is thus made practically a legal tender in all dealings with the Government, including subscriptions to the new loans, and the payment of all internal taxes, licenses, stamps, &c.

It is scarcely necessary to say that these dealings during the war, through the various ramifications of the War and Navy Departments, including the pay-rolls of the army and navy, constitute so large a share of the money business of the country, and especially of the great cities, that the local Banks cannot afford to discredit the paper in which they are settled, if they would. Some few of them may be ready to sacrifice a share of their best accounts to carry out what they may dignify as a principle in their opposition to the National system. To this extent and at this cost they can probably be gratified, but the notes of all National Banks, far and near, equally with Greenbacks, will remain legal-tender to and from the Government, nevertheless. The case will be altered after the country returns to specie payments all round. As the prospect of this is not immediate, and the National Banking system a fixed fact, it would seem to be the part of wisdom, not to say common sense, to have our National paper currency to work as smoothly as possible in the meantime.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 26.

THE ATTACK ON SENATOR CHANDLER.

The following is a strictly accurate account of the disgraceful assault last night on Senator CHANDLER, in the public dining hall of the National Hotel. CHANDLER, with Dr. CLARK, of Detroit, and a lady with two children, were taking dinner at a side table. In course of conversation on political matters, he denounced in very strong terms Copperheads in general, and especially those of the Western States. VOORHEES, of Indiana, who was sitting at another table behind them, in company with HANNIGAN, also of Indiana, arose from his seat, approached CHANDLER in an excited manner, demanding whether he referred to him, to which CHANDLER replied, "Who are you, Sir; I don't know you," at the same time rising from his chair. VOORHEES replied, "I am VOORHEES, of Indiana," and suiting his action to the word, struck CHANDLER on the side of the face. The two then closed, and the Senator was rapidly getting the better of VOORHEES, when HANNIGAN came to the latter's assistance with a heavy milk pitcher, snatched from the table, which he broke on CHANDLER'S head. The contents of the pitcher splashed over the whole company. CHANDLER was stunned by the blow, and had not fully recovered himself, when HANNIGAN dealt him a second blow with a chair. At this juncture parties present interfered, and the belligerents were separated. CHANDLER'S head was slightly cut by the pitcher, and his shoulder and arm were considerably bruised by the chair. Though not able to close his hand, he has been out to-day attending to his usual duties. VOORHEES is quite as large a man as CHANDLER, probably a little heavier. Persons seated at the table are positive that CHANDLER made no mention of VOORHEES' name, and no reference whatever to him personally.

A NEW BASE.

GRANT is forming for his army another base than Fredericksburgh, via Aquia Creek. His policy seems to be to keep throwing forward his base as he advances, and to give up the old ones.

ONE YEAR TROOPS.

The Senate Military Committee had under consideration, to-day, Senator CONNES'S bill changing the time for calling out volunteers for one year instead of three, as at present provided. The committee are understood to be opposed to making any change, but will allow the chairman to report the bill to the Senate for its action. The War Department is said to favor the measure.

THE ENROLLMENT BILL.

The Military Committee instructed Senator MORGAN to report his bill which repeals the three hundred exemption clause in the Enrollment Bill. The Enrollment Bill is also further amended so that the notice to be served on drafted men may be served within two days after such draft or any time within six months therefrom. This last amendment was urged and recommended to the Military Committee by Provost-Marshal-Gen. FRY in strong letters setting forth its necessity.

GEN. BLAIR'S CASE.

The Senate Judiciary Committee had before them to-day the resolution respecting Gen. FRANK BLAIR. They have addressed a letter to the Secretary of War, calling upon him for information as to the facts of the case not contained in documents submitted to the House. The committee intend to act and decide upon it purely as a legal question, not allowing their personal feelings to bias them in the least.

CONCERNING RAILROADS.

The Senate Commerce Committee have a meeting to-morrow for the purpose of disposing of the House joint resolution, allowing the Government to use all the railroads in the United States for military, postal and commercial purposes.

THE ARKANSAS DELEGATION.

At a caucus of Republican Representatives, held last evening, it was determined to oppose the admission of the Arkansas Delegation to seats on the floor of Congress. This action of the caucus is preliminary to the exclusion of Arkansas Delegates from the Baltimore Convention.

NIGHT SESSIONS.

An attempt will be made, to-morrow, to force the Senate into night sessions.

THE ADJOURNMENT.

In the House, strong effort will be made to adjourn on the 1st of July.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 26.

THE TEN-FORTY LOAN.

The subscriptions to the Ten-Forty Loan, reported at the Treasury to-day, amount to $1,117,000.

There is nothing later from the army to-night.

REPORT ON AGRICULTURE.

The Report on Agriculture for the past year, presented to Congress to-day, the publication of which will be for some months delayed by the press of business at the Public Printing Office, will not be inferior, it is believed, to the very popular and practical volume for 1862.

It will contain above forty essays on a variety of subjects of present importance. The initial article is a description of the American aspects of the International exhibition at Harrisburgh by D. NEEDHAM, of Vermont.

The national capabilities and industrial development of the Northwest are exhibited by J. W. HOYT, of Wisconsin; of West Virginia, by J. R. DODGE, of the department, and of Minnesota, by O. H. KELLEY, of Minnesota.

The animals of the farm very properly deserve attention, in view of the excessive demand for wool and meat, and dairy products, and the martial consumption of horses and mules. FRANCIS MORRIS, of New-York, furnishes an excellent article on breeding cavalry horses; JOHN STROHM, of Pennsylvania, writes of the "Conestoga Horses." The merits of Ayrshire cattle are judiciously canvassed by SANFORD HOWARD, of Massachusetts. Articles on "Sheep Husbandry," by H. S. RANDALL, of New-York; "Sheep and Wool," by J. R. DODGE, of the department, who also has a review of the dog-law question, with statistics on dog depredations; "Cashmere Goats," by J. H. DIEHL, District of Columbia; "Hogs and Pork Packing," by H. D. EMERY, of Illinois; "Distribution of Neat Cattle," by L. C. LOOMIS, District of Columbia.

E. A. SAMUELS, of Massachusetts, furnishes an article on the "Animals and Birds of New-England;" T. MICHENER, of Pennsylvania, on the "Insectivorous Birds of Chester County," and R. CALVIN, of Maryland, on "Bees and Bee Culture."

There is an interesting illustrated article on "Fruit," by F. R. ELLIOTT, of Ohio; a sketch of "Cranberry Culture," by E. B. PHINNEY, of Massachusetts; "Strawberry Culture," by GEORGE H. HITE, of New-York; "Wine Making and Silk Culture in California," by WILSON FLINT, of California.

An exhaustive review of "Cheese Dairying," of great practical value, is from the pen of S. L. Goodale, of Maine.

A concise and careful view of "Tobacco Growing" is taken by L. J. Bradford, of Kentucky; also a treatise on Hemp; of Flax, by J. R. Dodge, of the department, and of Teasels, by Z. Moses, of New-York.

Another of those sensible essays by Dr. Hall, of New-York, so admirably designed to enhance the health, comfort and happiness of the rural population, is found in "Farmers' Houses."

Mrs. Adams, of Michigan, offers suggestions about "Farmers' Boys," while Simon Brown, of Massachusetts, gives country homes additional cheer in "Improved Farmers' Gardens," and Ruth Hall, of Illinois, adds "House Flowers" to their other attractions.

William Landers, the accomplished gardener, makes his report, which is replete with valuable suggestions; T. Glover, the indefatigable entomologist, writes in popular style of insects and the means of their destruction; and L. Bollman, Statistical Clerk, makes his report upon the statistics of production.

An interesting paper on farm machinery is given by M. H. Dunlap, of Illinois; a sketch of the origin of the ice crop, by L. Wetherill, of Massachusetts; a comprehensive notice of the sorghum manufacture, by Wm. Clough, of Ohio; and a general outline on the geography of plants, by J. S. Lippincott, of New-Jersey. J. H. Leverett, of New-Hampshire, gives directions for "Root Culture." There are articles also upon meteorology, coal oil in West Virginia, &c.

From a hasty examination of the material of this report, we are inclined to believe that it will at least be found unexampled by any previous issue and adapted to answer well the progressive demands of American agriculture.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, Thursday, May 26.

THE SUPPRESSION OF THE NEW-YORK PAPERS.

Mr. Powell, of Kentucky, (Dem.,) submitted the following:

Resolved, That the conduct of the Executive authority of the Government in recently closing the offices and suppressing the publication of the World and Journal of Commerce newspapers in the City of New-York, under circumstances which have been placed before the public, was an act unwarranted in itself, dangerous to the cause of the Union, in violation of the Constitution and subversive of the principles of civil liberty, and as such is hereby censured by the Senate.

THE EFFICIENCY OF THE NAVY.

Mr. Hale, of New-Hampshire, (Union,) reported his bill to provide for the efficiency of the navy; which, as amended, authorizes the transfer, on approval by the President, of enlisted persons desiring to enlist in the naval service to serve during the remainder of their term of enlistment; and permits any seamen drafted into the military service to accept naval service instead. It also permits naval enlistments to be credited on the quota of each district, and gives the same bounty allowed to persons enlisting in the army.

THE DEBATES OF CONGRESS.

Mr. Anthony, of Rhode Island, (Union,) from the Printing Committee, introduced the House bill to pay in part for the printing of the debates of Congress. He stated that the publication of the Congressional Globe could not be continued under the the present regulations, and for several years it had been continued alone, because the late proprietor, John C. Rives, had made it the pride of his life, in the expectation that Congress would afterward reimburse him for any loss he might incur in his laudable effort to secure accurate reports of the proceedings of the Senate.

The consideration of the subject was deferred.

THE ARGUELLES CASE.

Mr. Johnson, of Maryland, (Union,) offered a resolution of inquiry, calling upon the President for information as to the delivery of Señor Arguelles to the Spanish authorities.

The resolution was ordered to be printed.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. Fessenden, of Maine, (Union,) from the Committee on Finance, reported the Legislative, Executive and Diplomatic Appropriation Bill, with the disagreements of the House thereto. He moved that the Senate adhere to its position, and accede to a Committee of Conference, to be appointed by the chair. Which was agreed to.

THE TAX BILL.

The Internal Revenue Bill was then taken up, the Senate being in Committee of the Whole, and

Mr. Fessenden offered a substitute for the 77th section, which, while changing the phraseology, does not alter the effect of the section.

The House proviso that manufactured tobacco, stemmed tobacco, snuff or cigars, may be transferred without the payment of the duty directly from the place of manufacture to a bonded warehouse, was retained, having been stricken out by the Senate Finance Committee.

The Senate, on motion of Mr. Fessenden, resolved, after a recess of from 4 till 7 P. M., to hold night sessions until the passage of the Revenue Bill.

The amendment of the Finance Committee, striking out the tax on repairs of vessels propelled exclusively by sail, was rejected by 22 against 13.

The Senate at 4:30 took a recess till 7 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

On motion of Mr. Lane, of Kansas, (Union,) it was resolved that the Secretary of the Interior be instructed to report to the Senate what tribes of Indians are in arms against the Government of the United States, the location and extent of the reserves of such Indian tribes, the terms by which they hold them, the amounts received by such tribes from the rebel authorities, and the amounts paid and expended by the Government of the United States for such Indian tribes since they were paid by rebel authorities, and also the number of loyal and disloyal of such tribes.

On motion of Mr. Sumner, it was resolved that the Secretary of War be requested to furnish to the Senate a copy of the preliminary report, and also of the final report, of the American Freedmen's Inquiry Commission, with the accompanying documents.

The consideration of the Tax Bill was resumed, and the reading of the bill continued.

Considerable debate arose on the Finance Committee's amendment, allowing corporations and companies to add the tax imposed to their rates of charges, any limitations existing by State law to the contrary notwithstanding, but it was finally agreed to.

The Senate at 9:15 adjourned without concluding the reading of the bill.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Washington, Friday, May 26.

THE PUBLIC WORKS ON THE LAKES.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, (Union,) from the Committee on Commerce, asked leave to report a bill appropriating $250,000 for the preservation and repair of the public works on the lakes, and $100,000 for similar purposes on the sea-coast.

Mr. Washburne said that, in the present condition of the country the committee would not report any general river and harbor bill, but they considered it necessary that the appropriation proposed should be made in order to save the works from destruction. This was all which could now be accomplished. He desired that the bill should be printed, and called up on a future occasion.

Mr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) objected, unless the bill should be considered in Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Mr. Washburne gave notice that he would move for a suspension of the rules to introduce it next Monday.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.

The House then resumed the consideration of the reciprocity question.

Mr. Baxter, of Vermont, (Union,) proceeded to show that the term reciprocity, as applied to the treaty, is a misnomer. No mutual rights are given to the United States by the British provinces, and the treaty should be abrogated.

Mr. J. C. Allen, of Illinois, (Dem.,) opposed abrogation. With the Mississippi and the St. Lawrence closed against the West, the railroads and canals would compel agriculturists to transport their products to market, and to pay just such tribute as they may exact.

Mr. Sweat, of Maine, (Dem.,) said we can succeed better while the treaty is alive, than if dead. The treaty is not what it should be, but it can be amended. It was beneficial to the fisheries and the shipbuilding interests, and it would be better to revise it than abrogate it altogether.

Mr. Davis, of Maryland, (Union,) argued that a commercial treaty of this kind is a direct invasion of the constitutional prerogative of Congress to regulate commerce with foreign nations. Trade should be subjected to taxation as far as our interests are concerned. Among other reasons he opposed the treaty because reciprocity between the United States and Canada was the last remnant of Democracy and of free trade, which was beneficial to foreigners, and hurtful to us.

Mr. Littlejohn, of New-York (Union,) said that when we are overburdened with taxation to carry on an international war, it became wise statesmen to promote the prosperity of the people in every department. He entered his protest against the abrogation of the treaty, which has during its existence been vastly beneficial to the inhabitants on our borders. He was in favor of appointing Commissioners in order to make a more perfect treaty of reciprocity, and he trusted the House would not consent to its complete abrogation.

Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, (Union,) said there was not a single gentleman who has addressed the House who did not admit at the outset, that the treaty operates injuriously to the United States. There could be no good cause for offence in giving the notice for the abrogation of the treaty, because such notice is provided for in the treaty itself. He was more than ever convinced that there is not a single interest which is benefited, or can be benefited by this treaty.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, (Union,) was in favor of abrogating the treaty, and said that Great Britain gets the benefit of it; that Great Britain herself asks for other arrangements.

Mr. Elijah Ward, of New-York, (Dem.,) who reported the joint resolution, inclosing the debate, said that the position of the subject relating to the fisheries had been so ably discussed by the honorable member from Massachusetts (Eliot) that he (Ward) need not allude to it. The member from Maine (Pike) had stated that when the treaty was made we received annually a balanced of sixteen millions of dollars in gold from the provinces. All our sales to the provinces never reached that amount before the year when the treaty was made. Official information has been furnished to the House from the Secretary of the Treasury, and since the treaty the balance has been more than twenty-six millions in our favor. The American tonnage employed in the trade is more than the foreign tonnage by fifty per cent. The trade of Canada with the United States is larger than with all other countries put together. He believed that the flagrant expressions adverse to us are the expressions of cliques or individuals, and by no means of the majority of the people of the province. Exchanges with the provinces on a fair basis would be mutually as beneficial as between the different States. Not one memorial had been presented to Congress in favor of the termination of the treaty, without any attempt to revise or improve it. After mature consideration, the Committee on Commerce had advised the appointment of Commissioners to ascertain if any plans could be adopted to adjust the various interests of the five several and separate provinces, and of the Eastern, Central and Western States, and to consider what shall best promote manufactures, agriculture and commerce, and the best method of removing such restrictions and legislation as are consistent with the general spirit of the treaty.

The House first voted on the amendment of Mr. Arnold, of Illinois, namely, authorizing the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint three Commissioners to confer with a like number of Commissioners duly authorized by the British Government, to negotiate a new treaty, based on true principles of reciprocity between the two Governments, with a view of enlarging the basis of the present treaty, and for the removal of the existing difficulties; provided, that in case one shall not be agreed to by both Governments, then the President shall give the notice for the termination, according to the provisions of the present treaty.

This was disagreed to by a vote of 54 to 97.

The House then voted on Mr. Morrill's substitute, namely: Authorizing and requesting the President to give the stipulated notice for the termination of the treaty.

This was also rejected by a vote of 74 to 82.

The original resolution, as reported from the Committee on Commerce, was next read for the action of the House. It is as follows:

Resolved, That the President of the United States be and he is hereby authorized and required to give notice to the Government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland that it is the wish and intention of the Government of the United States of America to terminate the said treaty at the end of twelve months from the expiration of ten years from the time when the said treaty went into operation as aforesaid, namely, March 16, 1856, such notice to be given at the expiration of ten years, to the end that said treaty may be abrogated as soon as it can be done under the provisions thereof, unless a new convention shall before that time be concluded between the two Governments, by which the provisions shall be abrogated or so modified as to be mutually satisfactory to both Governments; and that the President of the United States be and he is hereby authorized to appoint three Commissioners by and with the advice and consent of the Senate for the revision of said treaty, and to confer with other Commissioners duly authorized therefor, whenever it shall appear to be the wish of the Government of Great Britain to negotiate a new treaty between the two Governments and the people of both countries, based upon true principles of reciprocity, and for the removal of existing difficulties.

Mr. Stevens moved that the resolution be laid on the table.

The motion was disagreed to by a vote of 73 against 76.

The House agreed to the preamble to the resolution, which recites, as a reason for a modification of the treaty, that inequality and injustice exists in our present intercourse with Canada, subversive of the true intent of the treaty, owing to the subsequent legislation of Canada, and that it is desirable that friendly relations should be continued between the United States and British North American provinces, and that commercial intercourse should hereafter be carried on between them upon principles reciprocally beneficial and satisfactory to both parties.

The question now recurring on the passage of the joint resolution,

Mr. Stevens moved its further consideration be postponed till the second Tuesday of December next.

The result was, yeas 78, nays 72. So the resolution was postponed.

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 8, 1864, which provides that all Bonds issued under this act shall be BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption, FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually, and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest is payable on the first days of March and September in each year. As these Bonds, by act of Congress, are their value is increased from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax levies in various parts of the country.

EXEMPT FROM MUNICIPAL OR STATE TAXATION,

At the present rate of premium on gold they pay

OVER EIGHT PER CENT. INTEREST in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as the various descriptions of U. S. Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies or separate communities only is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

The Funded Debt of the United States on which interest is payable in gold, on the 3d day of March, 1864, was $768,965,000. The interest on this debt for the coming fiscal year will be $45,937,126, while the customs revenue in gold for the current fiscal year, ending June 30th, 1864, has been so far at the rate of over $100,000,000 per annum.

It will be seen that even the present gold revenues of the Government are largely in excess of the wants of the Treasury for the payment of gold interest, while the recent increase of the tariff will doubtless raise the annual receipts from customs on the same amount of importations, to $150,000,000 per annum.

The authorized amount of this loan is Two Hundred Million Dollars. Instructions to the National Banks acting as loan agents were not issued until March 26, but the amount of Bonds reported sold at the United States Treasury up to May 21 was $54,564,900.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States at Washington, and the Assistant Treasurers at New-York, Boston and Philadelphia, and by the

THE CASE OF HUTCHINGS, THE "LIGHTNING CALCULATOR."

There was published in these columns a few days since the remarkable cure of Hutchings, the "Lightning Calculator," so well known to the public during the many years he exhibited his wonderful arithmetical powers at Barnum's Museum, by the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Hutchings is represented to have been at the point of death, and but for the timely interference of the Doctor, would now be resting in his grave. This is a remarkable case, and worthy of the attention of persons similarly afflicted.

We think it is but just to Doctor Von Eisenberg to call public attention to this case. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, who, like the "Lightning Calculator," if not actually praying for death, are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, trifle not with inexperienced men, but consult, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to assure his patients whether it is within his power to make them whole or not.

EARS TO THE DEAF.

Every man, and especially every woman, believes in his or her physician. There are philosophical minds which hold to an abstract faith in Allopathy, or Homeopathy, or Hydropathy, or some other form of scientific cure; but with the world at large the belief is not in the system, but in the doctor. Especially is this true as regards aurists and oculists. The patient who has recovered his sight or his hearing is sure that the blessing could have been restored to him by no other practitioner than that particular one by whom his eyes or ears were opened. Dr. Von Eisenberg is among our best-known aurists. He has not lent us ears as a brother practitioner has eyes, and in whose skill, therefore, we believe above all others. But we hear of him from those who esteem him not merely as a surgeon, but as a benefactor. A recent case has been related to us, for the truthfulness of which we can vouch, though we can name no names. The patient was a lady who had been deaf from infancy, as a consequence of some of the ailments to which children are liable. Latterly the disease had taken an acute form, and the patient was subject to intense suffering. The deafness was rapidly becoming complete, and the general health breaking down under the physical exhaustion attendant upon constant pain. Ordinary remedies and ordinary advice were useless, and Dr. Von Eisenberg was called in. We need not repeat his diagnosis, for that would be only a list of hard names to the general reader. But he detected at sight the seat of disease, first in one portion of the organism, then in another, and with manipulation as skillful as his insight was accurate, he removed the causes, and she who, from infancy, had heard with difficulty, and latterly hardly at all, was restored first to perfect hearing and then to perfect health. Dr. Von Eisenberg's advertisement reminds us of this case, which we thus briefly relate, though not at his solicitation. Let him that hath not ears, hear.

SIGHT RESTORED.

CONCERNING EYES AND OCULISTS.

Of the five senses, that which we call seeing is the most important and most valued. In proportion as this sense fails us, we are reduced to helplessness. If entirely destitute of sight, how slow would be our progress in knowledge, and how limited our sphere of action and usefulness. Endowed with it, the universe becomes a new creation, clothed with beauty and diversified by that infinite variety which never fails to attract the mind and heart.

For several months past this has been a practical subject to us. An inflamed condition of the eyelids communicating itself to the pupil, rendered the discharge of daily duties not only painful, but dangerous. Attributing it to the effect of a cold, we endured it through the Spring, with the hope that with the return of warm weather it would entirely disappear. But in this we were doomed to disappointment. Summer returned, but not our wonted sight. What might have been the result, either of further neglect or of incompetent treatment, we cannot say.

Stating our case to a friend, he assured us that a similar one in his own family had recently been treated with entire success by Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Satisfying ourselves by more particular inquiries that the doctor is no empiric, but a scientific oculist and aurist, we concluded to seek the benefits of his treatment, which we have now reason to acknowledge is very great. Though but a few weeks under his care, the appearance of our eyes has totally changed. The pupil is now full and clear, and the lids are entirely free from inflammation. The doctor says that the optic nerve has been weakened and the retina assumed a chronic, inflammatory state, affecting more or less all the other tissues, and threatening, if neglected, to end in Amaurosis. Opthalmitis, is the term we believe, which oculists apply to eyes affected as were ours. Having obtained the much desired relief, we take great pleasure in acknowledging our indebtedness to the talent of Dr. Von Eisenberg, and of calling to it the attention of others who may be suffering from a similar or even worse condition of their eyes. It is said that Providence provides an antidote for every bane. It is certain that the eye is, in these times, subject to severer trials than formerly. Let us be thankful, then, that as we increase the tendencies which destroy the organ of vision, the progress of science keeps pace with these tendencies, if not in advance of them.

THE DRAFT POSTPONED.

TWELVE HUNDRED VOLUNTEERS WANTED.

A CHANCE FOR PATRIOTS!

It having been determined that the City of New-York is deficient only TWELVE HUNDRED AND SEVENTEEN men, in its quota under the President's call for 200,000 men, the Draft has been postponed for a few days, in order to enable the filling of the quota, if possible, by volunteering.

The County Volunteer Committee now appeal to the patriotism of the citizens of this County to aid them in raising the Twelve Hundred and Seventeen Men needed, and thus save the county from the misfortune of a Draft.

The County Volunteer Committee will pay the following bounties until further notice:

FOR ARMY RECRUITS	$300
FOR MARINES	300
FOR NAVAL RECRUITS FOR THREE YEARS	300
FOR NAVAL RECRUITS FOR TWO YEARS	200
FOR NAVAL RECRUITS FOR ONE YEAR	100

A County premium of $10 will also be paid for bringing an army recruit to this office, in addition to the Government premium of $15, and a County premium of $20 will be paid for bringing a naval recruit.

Let the citizens of New-York make one grand and final rally to save us from the impending draft.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK's constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

BRADBURY'S

GOLD MEDAL
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTES,

after thorough and repeated tests by GOTTSCHALK, MASON, MILLS, SANDERSON, FRADEL, MORGAN, HELLER, TIMM, PATTERSON, and many others of the most competent judges, are pronounced "superior in power, purity, richness and quality of tone and thoroughness of workmanship." See their letter in my last circular. Seven First Premiums, including two Gold Medals, were received by Mr. Bradbury within four weeks, at the State fairs; and at the American Institute of 1863, "for the BEST PIANO-FORTE, A GOLD MEDAL." Warerooms No. 427 Broome-st., one block east of Broadway.

WM. B. BRADBURY.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.'S

MELODEONS AND SCHOOL ORGANS.

The depot for the sale of the above celebrated instruments has been removed from No. 87 Fulton-st., to No. 543 Broadway, (Wm. Hall & Son's music store,) where a large stock of samples and packed instruments may at all times be found.

Direct all communications to the undersigned, who is sole agent for this City.

CHARLES B. BACON.

STEINWAY & SONS'

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 71 and 73 East 14th-st., between Union-square and Irving-place, New-York.

HAINES BROTHERS,

PIANO-FORTE MANUFACTURERS.
Warerooms No. 758 Broadway.
PIANOS TO LET AND FOR SALE
ON INSTALLMENTS.

RAVEN & BACON,

Piano-Forte Manufacturers, Wareroom, No. 135 Grand-st., near Broadway. A full assortment of our well known PIANOS constantly on hand, warranted in every respect. Purchasers will do well to examine our stock and prices before making their selections.

MASON & HAMLIN'S CABINET ORGANS, FOR FAMILIES, CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS—Recognized by the musical profession as greatly superior to Harmoniums, Melodeons and all other small organs. [See our illustrated catalogue for explicit testimony to their superiority, from a majority of the most eminent organists in America.] Prices, $85 to $500 each.

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.—The great reputation which our Cabinet Organs have obtained, and the extensive demand for them, have induced dealers to advertise, in some cases, quite different instruments as Cabinet Organs, and in others to represent to purchasers that Harmoniums and other reed organs are the same thing. This is not true. The excellences of our Cabinet Organs, which have given them their high reputation, are the result not merely of the superiority of their workmanship, but also, in large measure, of essential differences in construction, which, being patented, cannot be imitated by other makers. From these arise their better quality and volume of tone and unrivaled capacity for expression. Warerooms in New-York, No. 7 Mercer-st.

Ewell Attempts to Play the Part of Stonewall Jackson, but Fails.

The following letter, though delayed in its transmission to us, gives a clear and as yet timely account of a movement, of which we have had only very obscure details.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
NEAR SPOTTSYLVANIA COURT-HOUSE,
Thursday, May 19,—10 P. M.

The rebels, at 5 o'clock this evening, made an attempt to repeat JACKSON'S Chancellorsville flanking movement, and gave us an unanticipated hour or two of fighting which has ended with their complete repulse. EWELL'S corps (JACKSON'S old command) made a detour around our right wing and suddenly emerged on the Spottsylvania and Fredericksburgh plank road, striking our rear and breaking out upon our trains. The only force at the point was a portion of the heavy artillery division of Gen. ROBERT TYLER, which reached the army a day or two ago from Washington, and has never before been in battle. These were unable at first to check the advance of the rebels, who pounced upon our ammunition train, a portion of which they captured, and broke into an open space within three-quarters of a mile of these headquarters. Gen. TYLER, however, promptly gathered up his force, threw it upon the rebels, and finally repulsed them handsomely. Immediately upon the announcement of the attack, Gen. MEADE dispatched two divisions of HANCOCK'S corps (those of BARLOW and BIRNEY) from our extreme left, and CRAWFORD'S division of WARREN'S corps from the centre. BIRNEY formed his line and threw it into the woods in support of TYLER, while the Pennsylvania Reserves were sent around on the rebel right flank, with the view of preventing their recrossing the Ny. The rebels, finding themselves checked, fell back and recrossed the Ny at a point three or four miles above. The rebel force engaged was HOOD'S division of EWELL'S corps, the remainder of the corps supporting. The honor of their repulse rests with TYLER'S regiments, (heavy artillery used as infantry,) which withstoood their first baptism of battle nobly. Their loss was heavy, and will probably reach a hundred killed and four or five hundred wounded. This was in part owing to the fact that, being fresh troops, they did not know how to cover themselves as old troops do, and they illustrated the well-known fact that new troops in their first engagement generally fight with more reckless daring than even veterans. It should be mentioned that the wagons taken by the rebels were promptly recaptured, and we took besides from seventy-five to a hundred prisoners.

The assault on the part of the enemy was boldly conceived and executed, and was probably prompted by the fact that Gen. MEADE has to-day been withdrawing the forces from the right of our line and massing them on the left. The object of the rebels therefore was doubtless to discover where our right rested, and to seize such booty as might fall in their way. The purpose, as you will have seen, was completely foiled, and though the suddenness of the attack produced a temporary flurry, Gens. GRANT and MEADE seem now in perfect good humor with the result.

Obituary.

DEATH OF "DUNN BROWNE."

Some years ago there appeared in the Springfield Republican a series of letters from Europe, signed by "Dunn Browne,' which were widely copied and much admired for their sprightly vivacity. They were from the pen of Mr. SAMUEL FISKE, a graduate of Amherst College, in the class of 1848, and the author of a well-known college text-book, a translation of ESCHENBERG'S Manual of Greek and Roman Antiquities. Mr. FISKE was a clergyman, settled at Madison, Conn., when the war broke out; but he left the pulpit for the field, and dropped the "reverend" for a Lieutenant's title. After fighting bravely in the several battles, he was taken prisoner by the rebels, and detained for some time in Richmond. During the battle of the Wilderness, Captain—for he was promoted from a Lieutenancy—FISKE was mortally wounded. He was conveyed to Fredericksburgh, where, in a private house, he received the attention of personal friends, and of his wife and other members of his family. His death has taken from the Union ranks a brave, intelligent officer; from literary circles, a lively, versatile writer, and from the newspaper world, an admirable "war correspondent."

The Care of Our Brave Soldiers.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

There have been already many descriptions of our public military hospitals located in our bays. Yesterday I visited David's Island, and a more delightful spot could not have been selected, and everything there is conducted in such an able manner by Dr. WEBSTER, the surgeon in charge, and his able and experienced corps of assistant surgeons, that it insures every comfort for the maimed and disabled men.

What I regretted most was that it was rumored that our weather-beaten veterans are to be removed, and that beautiful spot is to be again occupied by rebels. I hope that such is not the case. Our Government officers certainly have too much regard for our true men.

UNION.

Ashby's Battery.

IN THE FRONT WITH BUTLER'S ARMY,
Friday, May 20, 1864.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your correspondence dated Saturday evening, May 14, 1864, from the front of this army, it is erroneously stated that BELGER'S Rhode Island Battery and FOLLETT'S Fourth U. S. Battery were posted and opened fire on the rebel works. Not wishing to claim any credit which is not due us, but at the same time not wishing any credit due us to go to the credit of other batteries, I will merely state that it was Capt. GEO. E. ASHBY'S battery of the Third New-York Artillery that fought the rebels on that day, without the aid of any other battery. Yours, respectfully,

SERGEANT.

The Christian Commission.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, May 25, 1864.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Having just returned from a week's visit to the wounded in the late battles in Virginia, in company with Bishop McILVAINE, of Ohio, it gives me great pleasure to assure the friends of those noble heroes throughout the country that our Government is doing everything in its power to relieve suffering, (more than any Government ever did before,) and that we found the work of the Christian Commission thoroughly organized, with an efficient corps of over two hundred and fifty volunteer delegates laboring incessantly for the temporal and spiritual comfort of our soldiers. As the result of one day's labor at the headquarters of the commission in Fredericksburgh, we brought up with us nearly three thousand letters, written for disabled soldiers by the delegates of the commission.

The great difficulty is in the transportation of supplies. Encouraged by the generous contributions of the people to our treasury, we have made arrangements to remedy this by purchasing and sending forward two additional wagons, with eight horses. We also chartered two schooners and a tugboat. To make the work of the commission more efficient on the field, we arrange for a set of delegates to work by day and another by night, so that there will be Christian men always present to minister to the sick and wounded and to stand by the bedside of the dying. The delegates of the commission have already accomplished a wonderful work, saving hundreds of lives and relieving untold suffering. They are still at their posts. It remains for the Christian philanthropic people of the land to keep them supplied with the means of carrying on and increasing their labor of love.

GEO. H. STUART,
Chairman Christian Commission.

Funeral of Capt. Le Fort.

The funeral of Capt. GEORGE LE FORT, Seventy-third Regiment, New-York State Volunteers, Second Regiment Fire Zouaves, took place yesterday afternoon from the Middle Reformed Dutch Church, corner of Harrison-street and Tompkins-place, Brooklyn. The body, dressed in the uniform worn by the deceased at the time he fell, was placed in a very handsome rosewood coffin, bearing a silver plate, on which was engraved:

Capt. GEORGE LE FORT,
Aged 26 years.
Died May 20, 1864.

The coffin was covered with an American flag. On it were placed two beautiful wreaths of immortelles and the sword owned by the deceased. The funeral services were read by Rev. Dr. SIMPLE, who also delivered a very touching eulogy on the character of the departed hero. The body was then placed in the hearse and escorted by the First Company Seventh Regiment National Guard, and a detachment from the First Battalion Heavy Artillery of Brooklyn, was conveyed to Greenwood Cemetery where it was interred with full military honors. Brig.-Gen. CROOK and Staff, HENRY WILSON, Esq., Ex-President of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Fire Commissioner LAWRENCE, and many other distinguished persons, were present to pay the last token of respect to one who in life had been so highly esteemed by them.

A BOUNTY BROKER SHOT.—MALCOLM WALLACE and MICHAEL HANORAN, bounty brokers, doing business at No. 14 State-street, became involved in a quarrel, yesterday, at their place of business, during which HANORAN drew a revolver and shot WALLACE in the arm, inflicting a serious wound. The latter was taken to the New-York Hospital, and the other arrested and committed to the Tombs to await the result of the wounded man's injuries.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, May 26, 1864.

To Major-Gen. Dix:

The dispatch from Gen. GRANT mentioned in telegraph this morning was dated at Jerico Mills, 12 noon, 25th. An official dispatch from headquarters, Quarel's Ford, at 8 o'clock this morning has just been received. It details movements in progress since yesterday, of which it is not proper now to say more than that they will manifest their result within twenty-four hours.

Our sick and wounded in Fredericksburgh have been transferred to Washington, and the army material and supplies removed to points nearer to the present field of operations.

From the mouth of Red River, May 21, Maj.-Gen. CANBY reports that the army from Red River was delayed in crossing the Atchafalaya by the high water and insufficient pontoon equipage. The crossing was completed to-day, and the army is now moving across the Mississippi.

Brig.-Gen. A. J. SMITH had a spirited engagement with POLIGNAC'S rebel division on the 18th instant, defeating it, driving it several miles, and capturing three hundred prisoners.

In a report at 10:45 to-day, Gen. BUTLER says "Further official reports show that the repulse at Wilson's Wharf was more complete than telegraphed. The enemy retreated during the night, leaving twenty-five of their dead in our hands, and showed a loss of killed and wounded of more than 200. From the accounts of every officer the negro troops behaved most splendidly.

Nothing has been heard from Gen. SHERMAN'S command.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

Special Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, May 26.

CUTTING OFF TRADE WITH THE REBELS.

The Senate Commerce Committee to-day authorized Senator MORRILL to report the bill which has been under consideration for some days, cutting off trade with rebel States, and prohibiting commercial intercourse of any kind whatever. Frauds and abuses to which the system of license under present regulations is liable, are regarded by the Committee as a sufficient reason for adopting this rigid policy.

IMMIGRATION.

The Senate Agricultural Committee have struck out the entire House bill, substituting their own instead. It simply provides for a Bureau of Immigration, but makes no provision for appropriating money to aid the emigrants.

ARRIVAL OF WOUNDED.

Over 1,800 wounded have arrived here within the last 24 hours, on transports from Fredericksburgh, whence they were shipped a day or two ago.

WHAT OHIO IS DOING.

It is announced that the State of Ohio has raised, equipped and put into the field over thirty thousand troops within the last thirty days. Her hundred days' men are now serving on the whole line from Parkersburgh and Bellair to Harper's Ferry, and are manning the fortifications of Washington. Another of these hundred days' regiments arrived to-day.

GEN. SHERMAN'S LOSS.

Gen. SHERMAN'S entire losses in the present campaign, down to his arrival at Kingston, amount to only $3,500.

NIGHT SESSIONS OF THE SENATE.

The Senate is holding night sessions on the Tax bill, and pushing it forward as vigorously as possible. The amendments of the Finance Committee are closely followed. Senators hope to have it passed by next Monday or Tuesday.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

The President and Secretary of State are believed to regret the action of the House on the subject of French interference in Mexico, and to deprecate its further agitation. It is understood that the House Committee on Foreign Relations will present an elaborate report on the correspondence recently submitted disapproving to some extent of the position therein assumed.

REDUCED TO THE RANKS.

The following order was lately issued:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA, IN THE FIELD, May 25.

Lieut. E. R. SHAW, Company K, Ninth Regiment Maine Volunteers, six months ago promoted from the ranks to his present position, having to-day, while in command of an outpost picketed further back with men under his charge some six hundred yards, thereby losing a position, &c., is hereby reduced to the ranks, and will report to the commanding officer of his regiment for duty, subject to the command of the President of the United States. By command.

Major-Gen. B. F. BUTLER.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

No. 23 FORSYTH-ST., NEW-YORK, Oct. 1, 1863.

Dr. Von Eisenberg:

DEAR SIR: Without recapitulating the numerous benefits I have received through your wonderful cure of the deafness I have labored under many years, the blessings I enjoy will convince the most skeptical.

I have tried many aurists, in Europe and America, without success. I was still deaf as a post.

Three years ago I entered your office, underwent one operation, hoping, yet doubting, I should receive any relief, but was agreeably disappointed in finding the genius of your profession.

The innate skill you possess cured my deafness in one almost painless operation.

The joy I experienced was indescribable; 'twas a new life to me.

My hearing is perfect to this day.

I strongly advise all who are suffering under a difficulty of hearing, or total deafness, to consult you immediately, as I also personally recommend all who apply to me. The numerous calls trespass on my time and patience, yet, remembering my own long, weary affliction causes me to pity them.

This is not written to advertise your well-known, unrivaled reputation—that would be peurile; but as a measure of precaution, to induce all to call on you at once, without troubling me; yet I do not refuse to see any one who comes to me. This is the only way I can show my gratitude.

I also call the attention of those who are suffering from Catarrh, which disease I have labored under one year or more.

I experienced difficulty in breathing, langour, heaviness over the eyes, a sense of tightness on the brain, and copious expectorations of a hard and viscid nature. Accompanying this is a "polypus," quite filling the right nostril. On the 25th ult. you operated on both, killing the polypus, which is gradually passing away, and giving me great relief from the Catarrh. One more operation will effectually cure.

This testimonial brings with it my unalloyed and grateful thanks, with but a poor delineation of your wondrous skill as an Aurist.

I am, Sir, yours very gratefully,
EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

RECENT TESTIMONIALS.

CATARRH CURED.

FROM REV. FRED. S. JEWELL,

PROFESSOR OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ALBANY, N. Y.

This may certify that I have been, since 1844, subject to violent periodical attacks of catarrh, marked by a highly inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the cavities of the head, producing a most distressing species of headache, for days at a time, wholly incapacitating me from business, and, during the paroxysms, confining me to the bed. In some instances the inflammation has extended to the teeth, occasioning toothache; to the throat, producing hoarseness and partial loss of voice; and twice it has so affected the left eye as to confine me for a month or more to a darkened room. These attacks have been accompanied by strong febrile symptoms; by stoppages of the head, and in the first stages by watery discharges from the nose, and subsequently becoming acrid and yellow, and, toward the close of the attack, becoming bloody and purulent. I have tried medicines of almost every kind; external applications to the head, such as camphor, ginger, hot vinegar, snuffs of some half dozen kinds, and other catarrhal preparations, together with internal remedies, such as alteratives, cathartics and emetics. These have produced no change in the occurrence or character of the disease, and, in most cases with little or no temporary relief. I had come, at length, to believe the disease to be practically beyond either cure or material alleviation.

Under these circumstances, I was led, some five months ago, to make a trial of Dr. Lighthill's treatment. His method at once approved itself to my judgment as simple, philosophical, and likely to be effective. Notwithstanding the disadvantages under which he labored in dealing with a disease of such long standing, aggravated by nervous debility and dyspepsia, and constantly induced by the accidents of my professional labor, I found the treatment reaching the disease as it had never been reached before, and producing such a modification and alleviation of its character as I had supposed impossible. I chronicle the result thus:

Although I have been situated several times so that I should formerly have believed a severe attack of my catarrh inevitable, I have escaped thus far; the symptoms of threatened attack have been very light, and have yielded to the remedies employed by Dr. Lighthill, without the need of recourse to the old hot fermentations, or emetics, and the discharges from the head have resumed the original and natural condition. That I have been able to obtain so material a relief is to me a cause of gratitude. In that alone I am repaid for whatever the treatment may have cost me.

I make this statement unsolicited, as a means of acknowledging my obligations to Dr. Lighthill's method of treating catarrh, and with a view to aid any who may have suffered from that disease in forming a just opinion of its merits, and its probable utility in their own case.

FREDERICK S. JEWELL.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 14, 1864.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DEAFNESS.

From Rev. Joseph M. Clarke, Rector of St. James' Church.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 20, 1864.

I have been deaf in one ear ever since I was in College, some twenty years ago. By the skill of Dr. Lighthill, its hearing was entirely restored, so that now I hear alike with both ears, and I find that I can use my voice with much more ease and comfort than before.

JOSEPH M. CLARKE.

From the Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

Since I first publicly acknowledged the great benefits which I received from the skillful treatment of Dr. Lighthill, in regard to my hearing, letters of inquiry have incessantly poured upon me from all parts of the country, from parties desiring to learn the particulars of my case, and I am indeed surprised at the number of individuals who are affected similar to the manner in which I have been, and, therefore, feel it more and more a sacred duty which I owe to these sufferers, to direct them to a proper and reliable source to obtain the benefit they so much covet, and which so many afflicted ones have hitherto sought in vain, just as I had done previous to applying to Dr. Lighthill.

I had from infancy one very deaf ear, which always discharged more or less offensive matter, and was the source of the greatest annoyance and discomfort to me. Last year the other ear also became diseased, and both ears discharged a yellow matter, very profuse and highly offensive. My hearing became very much impaired, and the discharge produced the greatest debility of body and depression of spirits. I applied to my family physician and other practitioners, without deriving any benefit, and almost despaired of being restored to health, when, providentially, I applied to Dr. Lighthill. Under his treatment my ears began to improve at once, and continued to do so until, in a comparatively short time, both ears were healed, the discharge removed, and my hearing restored. At first I feared the cure would not be permanent, or that the stoppage of a discharge of so long standing might prove detrimental to my general health—a fear which I find a great many entertain in regard to the removal of discharge from the ear. My experience, however, has proved conclusively that my apprehensions were entirely groundless in both respects, for both ears are as well, and my hearing is as good at present, as the day I left off treatment, and the stoppage of discharge, instead of proving detrimental to my health, has given the highest elasticity and vigor to my body, and a flow of spirits not experienced for a long time previous.

I wish that the above might serve as a general answer to the interested, but should one or the other desire to apply to me personally, or by letter, I will cheerfully satisfy reasonable demands upon my time.

I avail myself of this opportunity of again publicly expressing my deeply-felt gratitude to Dr. Lighthill, whom I esteem as a gentleman and a man of science, in whom the highest confidence may be placed.

JOHN NOTT.

HOURS, 10 A. M. TO 3 P. M.

From Mr. J. L. Goodell.

No. 8 BENNETT-ST., BOSTON, May 12, 1864.

D. ROWE—Dear Sir: Having been troubled with Catarrh for a number of years, the effects of which were the loss of smell, dizziness of the head, with a constant heaviness over the eyes, while the passage from the head to the throat was filled up by an accumulation of soft spongy substance, I placed myself under your care. Though but a little over two months since you have been treating me, quite a considerable change has taken place in my health. The dizziness in my head, together with the pressure over my eyes, has entirely gone, my sense of smell has very much improved, and I breathe quite freely through the nose. Although not entirely cured during the short time I have been under your treatment, yet I am quite confident that by following your directions the disease will very soon be effectually removed. Yours respectfully,

J. L. GOODELL.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Extract from Dr. Rowe's Treatise on Catarrh.

It produces a feeling of uneasiness, heat and stiffness of the nostrils, which are often closed on one or both sides, caused by the thickening of the membrane from inflammation; soon a thin, watery discharge commences, excoriating that part of the skin with which it comes in contact. If the disease be not checked then, the discharge soon becomes purulent, of a greenish yellow color, sometimes tinged with blood, with an odor more or less disagreeable, and sometimes very offensive. The breath of the patient becomes so revoltingly offensive as to isolate him from society, and render him an object of disgust to himself. The discharge frequently drops down the throat, and has to be hawked up to obtain relief—the senses of smell and taste become greatly impaired, and sometimes entirely lost—a distressing headache makes its appearance as the frontal bone sinuses become involved, and neuralgic pain in the face and head as soon as the other sinuses become affected. At night sleep is often interrupted, a sensation of dryness in the mouth and throat, thirst and feverishness generally being produced. In the morning a coated tongue and a disagreeable taste in the mouth are frequent, as also dizziness. Some persons become very drowsy, more especially during the day, after eating. After a time the memory becomes impaired, a restless, nervous feeling accompanying it—seriously affecting a close application to study; in short, a general restlessness of mind. Many are disposed to be costive. If the inflammation extends through the tear passage to the eye and inflames that organ, it causes the tears to overflow upon the slightest irritation or exposure, producing what is commonly called "Weeping Eye." If it extends through the Eustachian tubes to the middle ear, the hearing becomes more or less impaired; if it extends down the throat it gives rise to dyspepsia, bronchitis, and to CONSUMPTION. The experience and investigations of the greatest savans in medical science have established the fact that in fully two-thirds of the cases of consumption it commenced by inflammation and ulceration of the air passages. It must be remembered that the best and only cure of consumption is its prevention.

CATARRH CURED.

From Mr. Charles Lockitt.

BROOKLYN, April 8, 1864.

I wish to add my testimony in favor of Dr. Rowe's method of treatment of catarrh.

CHAS. LOCKITT, No. 251 Fulton-st., Brooklyn.

We, the undersigned, feeling that we are being and have been greatly benefitted by Dr. Rowe, by his treatment for catarrh, and believing it to be the most practicable method of treatment, recommend those similarly afflicted to avail themselves of it.

From Mr. Thomas S. Day, of Brooklyn.

No. 228 PEARL-ST., BROOKLYN, N. Y.,
September 13, 1863.

For the benefit of those similarly afflicted, I make the following statement: For ten years my daughter was afflicted with catarrh, which gradually grew worse until it had so impaired her health that we felt convinced she must die. The discharge from the head and throat was incessant, frequently accompanied by blood. After having tried every one and everything in vain, as a last resort I called on Dr. Rowe, under whose care she has been entirely cured and restored to the enjoyment of excellent health.

THOMAS S. DAY.

REMARKS ON THE CURE OF DEAFNESS AND DISCHARGES FROM THE EAR.

It can safely be said that there is no case of discharge of the ear but what can be entirely and permanently cured; and in most cases where, as is usually the case, deafness accompanies it, the hearing can be either entirely cured or materially improved. Like all diseases, there are some cases of deafness that cannot even be benefited, but in the majority of cases the hearing can either be entirely cured or remarkably benefited. It can always be checked and prevented from growing worse.

It is an erroneous idea that where discharges of the ear are checked it will be thrown in the system, and will make its appearance somewhere else in a more aggravated form. A directly contrary effect I have always found in cases that I have treated, the health of the patient being much more robust after the discharge has been checked. I am yet to see a case where it has impaired the health of the patient by being stopped. Let any one disposed to think any injurious effects can arise from its being stopped ask themselves the question, "Is it natural for the ear to discharge?" No, certainly not. Then can it be beneficial to have an offensive discharge rendering you disgusting to every one with whom you are brought in contact, constantly running from your ears, or can it be injurious to check it?

CAUTION TO PARENTS.

Parents are apt to think that their children will outgrow discharges from their ears or catarrhal affections. Never were they laboring under a greater mistake. How many instances are there where they have outgrown them? It must be acknowledged that there have been cases, but they are the exception to the rule, and very few and far between—not one in a hundred. In many cases where they have been allowed to continue unchecked, the membrana tympani or drumhead has become perforated and the drum injured, thus precluding all possibility of restoring the hearing. Is any parent willing to run such a risk?

In catarrh the disease grows with the child, and either terminates in consumption or deafness. These two diseases in children cannot be checked too soon.

From Caleb Sager, Esq., of Trenton, N. J.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 24, 1863.

This is to certify that my daughter, having been afflicted for eighteen years with deafness and discharges from both ears, caused from scarlet fever when two years old, I placed her under the care of Dr. Rowe. Now her hearing is restored; she hears quite distinctly, and the discharges from both ears are entirely stopped. From my intercourse with Dr. Rowe, I feel justified in recommending him as a gentleman well versed in the diseases he makes a specialty of.
